Reading And Learning From Text:

Text Relevance and Learning from Text Gregory Schraw, Matthew T. McCrudden, Joseph P. Magliano, 2011-08-01 Why do people from similar backgrounds who read the same text construct different meanings Is there a question behind every reading goal such that reading is an interactive process of asking and answering of questions Do people who believe that knowledge is dynamic construct meaning differently than those who believe that knowledge is certain This volume addresses questions such as these and presents cutting edge research and theory that explores how readers determine text relevance i e the different values they assign to information as they read how relevance affects understanding and the implications of these studies for theories of text comprehension This volume documents in a compelling manner the ongoing international effort to understand how text relevance affects reading and comprehension Contributing authors represent major academic institutions on three continents and nine countries demonstrating the multinational interest in text relevance Why is there so much interest in text relevance Learners are inundated with unprecedented amounts of information and increased research regarding how readers process non traditional texts e g documents on the web and multiple documents for example underscores the importance of understanding how readers determine the relevance of text information for personal academic or professional goals which can enable educators to design learning situations that help learners get the most out of reading

Learning From Text Across Conceptual Domains Cynthia R. Hynd, 2013-12-16 This volume is an attempt to synthesize the understandings we have about reading to learn Although learning at all ages is discussed in this volume the main focus is on middle and high school classrooms critical spaces of learning and thinking The amount of knowledge presented in written form is increasing and the information we get from texts is often conflicting We are in a knowledge explosion that leaves us reeling and may effectively disenfranchise those who are not keeping up There has never been a more crucial time for students to understand learn from and think critically about the information in various forms of text Thus understanding what it means to learn is vital for all educators Learning from text is a complex matter that includes student factors social ethnic and cultural differences as well as varying motivations self perceptions goals and needs instructional and teacher factors and disciplinary and social factors One important goal of the book is to encourage practicing teachers to learn to consider their students in new ways to see them as being influenced by and as influencing not just the classroom but the total fabric of the disciplines they are learning Equally important it is intended to foster further research efforts from local studies of classrooms by teachers to large scale studies that produce generalizable understandings about learning from text This volume a result of the editor s and contributors work with the National Reading Research Center will be of interest to all researchers graduate students practicing teachers and teachers in training who are interested in understanding the issues that are central to improving students learning from text Finding the Right Texts Elfrieda H. Hiebert, Misty Sailors, 2009-01-01 Until now no single volume has comprehensively examined the crucial question of how to select the most appropriate reading material for beginning or struggling readers From leading authorities this book meets an important need by reviewing the best available research on the role of specific text features a including linguistic and conceptual content a in supporting the development of proficient reading Also explored are ways that teacher scaffolding can help students who have difficulties with particular aspects or types of texts The book considers approaches to adapting the design and selection of texts to reinforce reading skills and provide well paced challenges for Ka 6 students at a variety of ability levels

Literacy Beyond Text Comprehension M. Anne Britt,Jean-François Rouet,Amanda Durik,2017-07-06 Literacy Beyond Text Comprehension aims to systematically investigate how readers interpret reading tasks within a situation and how that interpretation influences reading behavior and comprehension Presenting a new model of REading as problem SOLVing RESOLV the authors describe reading comprehension in terms of how a reader adopts goals within a particular situation that then guide what is read when and how By applying the RESOLV model to a range of reading situations this book provides evidence to suggest that there is no unitary understanding of a task because individuals bring their own goals and characteristics to the situation as such it demonstrates the importance of understanding how a reader e g student test taker employee completing a work task represents the context and the specific assignment Written by internationally recognized learning sciences scholars Literacy Beyond Text Comprehension advances the state of the art in reading research but also seeks to inform a broader range of audiences including those interested in the teaching and the assessment of reading

Learning to Learn from Text A. Morris,Nea Stewart-Dore,1984 How to teach effective strategies in reading for information and research

Text Comprehension And Learning Bernadette Van Hout-Wolters,Wolfgang Schnotz,2020-08-27 This book deals with the significance of different text structures and its cognitive processing in learning from texts It discusses the effect of learning abilities and attitudes for learning from texts and focuses on the significance of processing and learning strategies for text comprehension
