Reading And Rhetoric:

J. Hillis Miller and the Play of Literature Jonathan Locke Hart, 2023-12-27 This is the first book to discuss the full sweep of the work of J Hillis Miller from his earliest writing in the 1950s to those near the time of his death in February 2021 across the genres of his criticism and theory poetry fiction drama fiction non fiction The book examines Miller's preference for close and careful reading of individual literary and critical works over abstract theory The study will discuss the last member of the so called Yale School of deconstruction to die but will see him as a reader and lover of literature someone interested in Georges Poulet and phenomenology and in Jacques Derrida and deconstruction Miller was concerned about many aspects of literature and life including the pleasure of reading and writing and in climate change which he saw as the crisis of our time Miller was well known in humanities and literature worldwide as one of the greatest of modern critics and theorists

Rhetorical Hermeneutics Alan G. Gross, William M. Keith, 1997-01-01 Examines the nature of rhetorical theory and criticism the rhetoric of science and the impact of poststructuralism and postmodernism on contemporary accounts of rhetoric

Inventions of Reading Clayton Koelb, 2019-06-30 Where do writers of fiction get their ideas Clayton Koelb here takes issue with those who regard inspiration or imitation as primary forces influencing literary invention He finds that another mechanism which he calls rhetorical construction underlies much fiction and some nonfiction as well Rhetorical construction Koelb says is a way of producing writing out of reading The rhetorical writer begins by discovering an interpretive crux in a familiar text a passage from the Bible for example or a commonplace expression and then proceeds to imagine a fictional situation in which all the meanings of the passage contradictory though they may seem may be realized According to Koelb inventions of reading do not stop with the discovery of the eternal and inevitable deconstructibility of language they somehow generate an urge to put language back together through the invention of a fictional world Among the texts he discusses are writings by Boccaccio Rabelais Goethe Schiller Kleist Hawthorne Hans Christian Andersen Nietzsche Kafka Calvino and Flannery O'Connor

Perspectives on Rhetorical Invention Janet Atwill, Janice M. Lauer, 2002 Rhetorical invention the discursive art of inquiry and discovery has great significance in the history of spoken and written communication dating back to the ancient Greeks and Romans Yet invention has received relatively little attention in recent discussions of rhetoric writing and communication This collection of essays is the first book in years to focus on current research in rhetorical invention The contributors include many well established scholars as well as new voices in the field They reflect a variety of approaches and perspectives theory history culture politics institutions pedagogy and community service Several of the essays address the relationship between invention and postmodernism some by refiguring invention others by challenging postmodernism Still other essays explore multicultural conceptions of invention the civic function of invention and rhetoric and the role of rhetorical invention in institutions and in community problem solving Taken together these essays provide a much needed forum for ongoing study of rhetorical invention within the framework of recent developments in both scholarship and the culture at large If inventional research is to continue and flourish notes Janice Lauer in her foreword it must remain sensitive to shifts in epistemology ethics and politics The essays in this volume undertake this effort The Editors Janet M Atwill is associate professor of English at the University of Tennessee The author of Rhetoric Reclaimed Aristotle and the Liberal Arts Tradition and coauthor of Four Worlds of Writing Inquiry and Action in Context and Writing A College Handbook she has published articles in Rhetoric Review Encyclopedia of Rhetoric and the Journal of Advanced Composition Janice M Lauer is Reece McGee Distinguished Professor of English at Purdue University where she founded directed and teaches in the graduate program in Rhetoric and Composition She is coauthor of Four Worlds of Writing and Composition Research Empirical Designs and has published numerous articles on rhetoric and composition Contributors Frederick J Antczak Janet M Atwill Julia Deems Richard Leo Enos Theresa Enos Linda Flower Debra Hawhee Janice M Lauer Donald Lazere Yameng Liu Arabella Lyon Louise Wetherbee Phelps Jay Satterfield Haixia Wang Mark T Williams

Reading and Rhetoric (Classic Reprint) Robert B. Kaplan, 2015-09-27 Excerpt from Reading and Rhetoric There are already a great many readers on the market and it hardly seems necessary to add to the abundance with one more effort This reader is designed for a particular purpose which it seems to me is not satisfied by any other work presently available Great numbers of students come to the United States each year to study everything from anthropology to zoology and many of these students are handicapped in their pursuit of higher education by their deficiencies in English More and more universities and colleges are beginning to recognize the need for more intensified English training and are attempting to meet it with special courses in English as a Second Language Of course textbooks have been prepared for such purposes But it seems to me that many of the textbooks in this field suffer from one of two distinct disadvantages either they are composed of materials which because of their simplicity and condescension insult the often highly developed intelligence and mature sophistication of the international student or they are composed of materials which mistakenly strive to give the international student a very contemporary view of American life and which as a result present that student with selections containing cultural assumptions far beyond his grasp This textbook attempts to do two things First it tries to avoid the sins of which I have accused other texts Second it tries to present its materials according to a rhetorical pattern so that it may conveniently be synchronized with a writing and grammar course About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Rhetoric and Pleasure Jan van Luxemburg,1992 This study treats after a discussion on literary theory rhetorical and conventional aspects of realist novels from three different cultures La regenta by the Spaniard Leopoldo Alas 1852 1901 the feminist novel Constance Ring by the Norwegian author Amalie Skram 1846 1905 and three Roman novels by the Dutch writer Louis Couperus 1863 1923 The author argues that part of the meaning of these novels is influenced and in some cases even rendered undecidable by the use of rhetorical figures and tropes or by the exigencies of literary decorum Part of the rhetoric is strongly estheticizing it generates a plaisir du texte and also threatens the postulated serious or emancipatory meaning of the texts Van Luxemburg's rhetorical analysis is influenced by the deconstructionist criticism of among others Roland Barthes J Hillis Miller Paul de Man and Adena Rosmarin His book covers the representation of women of servants and slaves and in relation to this the depiction of morality and religion

Productivity, Professionalism, and Parenting in Academia Christine E. Tulley,2025-04-30 Drawing on time use diary analysis this unique and detailed study fills in the larger narrative about what it takes hour by hour to navigate academic motherhood with a rhetoric and composition career Looking specifically at the intersections between parenting and writing for publication in order to find out how and when writing for career advancing tasks such as publication occur but also through the lens of disciplinary time constraints including heavy grading and administrative workloads the book examines support systems noted within diary entries that make combining motherhood and a career in rhetoric and composition possible Using both quantitative analysis of hours and qualitative coding of time use diaries from rhet comp moms this book answers questions about publishing professionalism and parenting This book will interest scholars and graduate students working in the discipline of rhetoric writing and composition particularly those working on labor and professional issues on gender and equality within the discipline and anyone working in all fields looking for ways to foster a better work life balance
