Serving Students At Metropolitan Universities:

Student Affairs in Urban-Serving Institutions Anna M. Ortiz, 2019-06-06 Student Affairs in Urban Serving Institutions Voices from Senior Leaders addresses a critical gap in literature concerning the unique structure students and missions of urban serving institutions USIs Examining the challenges and contributions of student affairs professionals in serving and meeting the needs of urban students this volume discusses how services and interventions must reflect the reality of students understand the sociopolitical forces that affect students lives and bring together a network that includes family and community Each chapter in this volume captures the voices of student affairs leaders who not only share a range of important professional experiences insights and lessons learned but also unpack research and literature on competencies knowledge bases and experiences needed to work in urban universities and community colleges This important book will help graduate students as well as new and continuing professionals faculty and scholars impact practice and policy and become agents of change in their communities

Serving Students at Metropolitan Universities: The Unique Opportunities and Challenges Larry H. Dietz, Vicky L. Triponey, 1997-10-04 Among the distinctive characteristics of U S postsecondary education are access choice and variety Students in this country have a diversity of choices as they seek college admission The possibilities boggle the mind especially as college administrators contemplate how to meet the service needs of diverse student populations with differing needs abilities and aspirations It becomes an even greater challenge when one realizes that most institutions are confronted with students who fit into not one but several of these life situation categories Thus the challenge becomes one of how an institution should plan program and budget to meet the diverse and changing demands for services and resources This challenge is faced by student affairs administrators regardless of the type of institution but it is particularly demanding in a metropolitan university setting A paucity of research is available about students who choose to attend metropolitan universities and little opportunity exists for sharing ideas and expertise on how to meet the needs of these less than traditional students

Learning to Serve Maureen E. Kenny, Lou Anna K. Simon, Karen Kiley-Brabeck, Richard M. Lerner, 2012-12-06 Service learning as defined by the editors is the generation of knowledge that is of benefit to the community as a whole This seventh volume in the Outreach Scholarship book series contributes a unique discussion of how service learning functions as a critical cornerstone of outreach scholarship The sections and chapters of this book marshal evidence in support of the idea that undergraduate service learning infused throughout the curriculum and coupled with outreach scholarship is an integral means through which higher education can engage people and institutions of the communities of this nation in a manner that perpetuate civil society The editors through this series of models of service learning make a powerful argument for the necessity of engaged institutions
