Target 2025:

Electric Motorcycle Charging Infrastructure Road Map for Indonesia Asian Development Bank, 2022-10-01 Motorcycles are a major component of road transport in Indonesia with more than 120 million estimated to be in use While the number of motorcycles operating in the country has steadily grown in recent years the proportion of electric motorcycles remains very low A shift away from fossil fuel based motorcycles will provide considerable benefits for Indonesia by reducing air and noise pollution greenhouse gas emissions and reliance on fuel imports This report examines how such a shift can be achieved with a focus on electric motorcycle charging infrastructure It draws on best practices from other economies to provide a road map and policy recommendations for developing this infrastructure Levels and trends in child malnutrition , 2021-05-05 UNICEF WHO WB Joint Child Malnutrition Estimates JME inter agency group updates regularly the global and regional estimates in prevalence and numbers for each indicator The JME estimates are used for monitoring of the 2025 nutrition targets endorsed by the World Health Assembly in 2012 and their extension to 2030 proposed by WHO and UNICEF for the monitoring of the SDG 2 2 targets 2 2 1 stunting and 2 2 2 wasting and overweight The goal of the annual key findings is to inform monitoring efforts towards the nutrition targets set by countries as well as other key data stakeholders such as health related institutions academia civil societies and donors The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World 2020 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations , International Fund for Agricultural Development, World Food Programme, World Health Organization, The United Nations Children's Fund, 2020-07-01 Updates for many countries have made it possible to estimate hunger in the world with greater accuracy this year In particular newly accessible data enabled the revision of the entire series of undernourishment estimates for China back to 2000 resulting in a substantial downward shift of the series of the number of undernourished in the world Nevertheless the revision confirms the trend reported in past editions the number of people affected by hunger globally has been slowly on the rise since 2014 The report also shows that the burden of malnutrition in all its forms continues to be a challenge There has been some progress for child stunting low birthweight and exclusive breastfeeding but at a pace that is still too slow Childhood overweight is not improving and adult obesity is on the rise in all regions The report complements the usual assessment of food security and nutrition with projections of what the world may look like in 2030 if trends of the last decade continue Projections show that the world is not on track to achieve Zero Hunger by 2030 and despite some progress most indicators are also not on track to meet global nutrition targets The food security and nutritional status of the most vulnerable population groups is likely to deteriorate further due to the health and socio economic impacts of the COVID 19 pandemic The report puts a spotlight on diet quality as a critical link between food security and nutrition Meeting SDG 2 targets will only be possible if people have enough food to eat and if what they are eating is nutritious and affordable The report also introduces new analysis of the cost and affordability of healthy diets around the world by region and in different development contexts It presents valuations of the health and climate change costs associated with current food consumption patterns as well as the potential cost savings if food consumption patterns were to shift towards healthy diets that include sustainability considerations The report then concludes with a discussion of the policies and strategies to transform food systems to ensure affordable healthy diets as part of the required efforts to end both hunger and all forms of malnutrition Africa regional overview of food security and nutrition 2020

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, United Nations Economic Commission for Africa, African Union Commission, 2021-06-29 Africa is not on track to meeting the Sustainable Development Goal SDG 2 targets to end hunger and ensure access by all people to safe nutritious and sufficient food all year round and to end all forms of malnutrition The number of hungry people on the continent has risen by 47.9 million since 2014 and now stands at 250.3 million or nearly one fifth of the population The 2017, 2018 and 2019 editions of this report explain that this gradual deterioration of food security was due to conflict, weather extremes and economic slowdowns and downturns often overlapping A continued worsening of food security is expected also for 2020 as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic In addition to hunger across all countries in Africa millions of people suffer from widespread micronutrient deficiencies and overweight and obesity are emerging as significant health concerns in many countries This report shows that the food system in Africa does not provide food at a cost that makes nutritious food affordable to a majority of the population and this is reflected in the high disease burden associated with maternal and child malnutrition, high body mass, micronutrient deficiencies and dietary risk factors The report also shows that current food consumption patterns impose high health and environmental costs which are not reflected in food prices The findings presented in this report highlight the importance of prioritizing the transformation of food systems to ensure access to affordable and healthy diets for all produced in a sustainable manner Food systems and nutrition Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,

Inter-Parliamentary Union (IPU), 2021-04-19 Parliamentarians are agents of change and their role is critical to ensure a world where all people are eating healthy diets from sustainable, inclusive and resilient agri-food systems Members of the Parliament hold a strategic position as they can shape policies and actions for improving food availability, accessibility and affordability for all people especially the most vulnerable to ensure their food security and good nutrition for health and wellbeing Objectives that are more important than ever in the current context of the COVID-19 pandemic This handbook is addressed to Parliamentarians to support them in adopting domestic legislation, approving budget allocations and overseeing public sector policies towards transforming food systems that deliver healthy diets for all This handbook was prepared by the Inter-Parliamentary Union and the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations in collaboration with the Scaling Up Nutrition (SUN) Movement, the World Health Organization (WHO), the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) and the African Union Development Agency's New Partnership for Africa's Development (AUDA-NEPAD) UNAIDS Global AIDS Update 2024 UNAIDS, 2024-07-22 The report titled The Urgency of Now: AIDS at a Crossroads demonstrates the HIV response is at a crossroads success or failure will be determined by which path leaders take The report shows that the decisions leaders make this year will determine whether AIDS is ended as a public health threat by 2030 Taking the wrong path by limiting resourcing or clamping down on human rights would lead the pandemic to continue to grow costing millions more lives and undermining global health security

Profil ,2006 Annual Energy Outlook 2011, With Projections to 2035 Energy Information Administration (U.S.),2011-06-14 The projections in the Energy Information Administration s EIA Annual Energy Outlook 2011 AEO2011 focus on the factors that shape the U S energy system over the long term Under the assumption that current laws and regulations remain unchanged throughout the projections the AEO2011 Reference case provides the basis for examination and discussion of energy production consumption technology and market trends and the direction they may take in the future It also serves as a starting point for analysis of potential changes in energy policies But AEO2011 is not limited to the Reference case. It also includes 57 sensitivity cases see Appendix E Table E1 which explore important areas of uncertainty for markets, technologies and policies in the U.S. energy economy. Key results highlighted in AEO2011 include strong growth in shale gas production, growing use of natural gas and renewables in electric power generation, declining reliance on imported liquid fuels and projected slow growth in energy-related carbon dioxide (CO₂) emissions even in the absence of new policies designed to mitigate greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. AEO2011 also includes in-depth discussions on topics of special interest that may affect the energy outlook. They include impacts of the continuing renewal and updating of Federal and State laws and regulations, discussion of world oil supply and price trends shaped by changes in demand from countries outside the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development or in supply available from the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries, an examination of the potential impacts of proposed revisions to Corporate Average Fuel Economy standards for light-duty vehicles and proposed new standards for heavy-duty vehicles, the impact of a series of updates to appliance standards alone or in combination with revised building codes, the potential impact on natural gas and crude oil production of an expanded offshore resource base, prospects for shale gas, the impact of cost uncertainty on construction of new electric power plants, the economics of carbon capture and storage and the possible impact of regulations on the electric power sector under consideration by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Some of the highlights from those discussions are mentioned in this Executive Summary. Readers interested in more detailed analyses and discussions should refer to the Issues in Focus section of this report.

M. M. Gelauff, Arjan M. Lejour, 2005. The Lisbon strategy could reinvigorate Europe's economy and boost employment. In 2000 the European leaders agreed to stimulate economic growth and employment and make Europe's economy the most competitive in the world. If Europe would really reach the goals they set, Europe's Gross Domestic Product could increase by 12 to 23% and employment by about 11%. This paper draws this conclusion after having analysed five of the most important Lisbon goals: the internal market for services, the reduction of administrative burdens, goals on improving human capital, the 3% target on research and development expenditures and the 70% target on the employment rate. Using CPB's general equilibrium model for the world economy we have simulated the consequences for Europe of reaching the Lisbon targets in these fields.
