Ravan Twenty Five Years 1972 1997 A Commemorative Volume Of New Writing:

Ravan--twenty-five Years (1972-1997) G. E. De Villiers, 1997 Ravan celebrates its silver anniversary of survival as a leading South African publisher despite crises with a memoir and 14 new prose and poetry offerings by Abrahams Gortimer Mphahlele et al Distributed in the US by Ohio U Press Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Creating Postcolonial Literature C. Davis, 2013-04-21 Using case studies this book explores the publishing of African literature addressing the construction of literary value relationships between African writers and British publishers and importance of the African market It analyses the historical political and economic conditions framing the emergence of postcolonial literature Black African Literature in English, 1997-1999 Bernth Lindfors, 2003 This volume lists the work produced on anglophone black African literature between 1997 and 1999 This bibliographic work is a continuation of the highly acclaimed earlier volumes compiled by Bernth Lindfors Containing about 10 000 entries some of which are annotated to identify the authors discussed it covers books periodical articles papers in edited collections and selective coverage of other relevant sources Postcolonial Studies Pramod K. Nayar, 2015-07-09 This new anthology brings together the most diverse and recent voices in postcolonial theory to emerge since 9 11 alongside classic texts in established areas of postcolonial studies Brings fresh insight and renewed political energy to established domains such as nation history literature and gender Engages with contemporary concerns such as globalization digital cultures neo colonialism and language debates Includes wide geographical coverage from Ireland and India to Israel and Palestine Provides uniquely broad coverage offering a full sense of the tradition including significant essays on science technology and development education and literacy digital cultures and transnationalism Edited by a distinguished postcolonial scholar this insightful volume serves scholars and students across multiple disciplines from literary and cultural studies to anthropology and digital studies Liberation and Development Leslie Anne Hadfield, 2016-05-01 Liberation and Development Black Consciousness Community Programs in South Africa is an account of the community development programs of the Black Consciousness movement in South Africa It covers the emergence of the movement's ideas and practices in the context of the late 1960s and early 1970s then analyzes how activists refined their practices mobilized resources and influenced people through their work The book examines this history primarily through the Black Community Programs organization and its three major projects the yearbook Black Review the Zanele Community Health Center and the Njwaxa leatherwork factory As opposed to better known studies of antipolitical macroeconomic initiatives this book shows that people from the so called global South led development in innovative ways that promised to increase social and political participation It particularly explores the power that youth women and churches had in leading change in a hostile political environment With this new perspective on a major liberation movement Hadfield not only causes us to rethink aspects of African history but also offers lessons from the past for African societies still dealing with developmental challenges similar to those faced during apartheid Emerging Traditions Vicki

Briault Manus,2012-07-10 The monograph explores the linguistic impact of the colonial and postcolonial situations in South Africa on language policy on literary production and especially on the stylistics of fiction by indigenous South Africans writing in English A secondary concern is to investigate the present place of English in the multilingual spectrum of South African languages and to see how this worldly English relates to Global English in the South African context The introduction presents a socio linguistic overview of South Africa from pre historic times until the present including language planning policies during and after the colonial era and a cursory review of how the difficulties encountered in implementing the Language Plan provided for by the new South African constitution impinge on the development of black South African English Six chapters track the course of English in South Africa since the arrival of the British in 1795 considered from the point of view of the indigenous African population The study focuses on ways in which indigenous authors indigenize their writing innovating and subverting stylistic conventions including those of African orature in order to bend language and genre towards their own culture and objectives Each chapter corresponds to a briefly outlined historical period that is largely reflected in linguistic and literary developments A small number of significant works for each period are discussed one of which is selected for a case study at the end of each chapter where it is subjected to detailed stylistic analysis and appraised for the degree of indigenization or other linguistic or socio historic influences on style The methodology adopted is a linguistic approach to stylistics focusing on indigenization of English inspired by the work of Chantal Zabus in her book The African Palimpsest Indigenization of Language in the West African Europhone Novel 2007 1991 The conclusion reappraises the original hypothesis that the specific characteristi
