Pro Poor Growth And Governance In South Asia Decentralization And Participatory Development:

Pro-Poor Growth and Governance in South Asia Wignaraja P.,2004 Pro-poor Growth and Governance in South Asia Ponna Wignaraja,Susil Sirivardana,2004-01-01 This important volume advocates a pro poor growth strategy where the poor also participate directly as subjects in development The contributors maintain that a critical element in this process is social mobilization where organizations of the poor work in partnership with a restructured state and a socially responsible private sector They see a new political space for this in the current attempts at decentralization which are also aimed at developing power to the people To illustrate these possibilities the volume presents six case studies from India Pakistan Sri Lanka Nepal and Bangladesh Together they show how new social movements and organizations of the poor are converging with efforts to decentralize and to share power at the local level This volume breaks new ground by investigating in depth the three important agendas of governance decentralization devolution and poverty eradication and by highlighting how they can be coordinated to fashion a genuinely pro poor macro micro development strategy Regional Cooperation in South Asia and Southeast Asia Kripa Sridharan,2007 Provides a comparative sketch of regional cooperation in South and Southeast Asia in the light of various political economic and social developments in the two regions Localizing Governance in India Bidyut Chakrabarty,2017-02-17 Participatory governance has a long history in India and this book traces historical intellectual trajectories of participatory governance and how older Western discourses have influenced Indian policymakers While colonial rulers devolved power to accommodate dissenting voices for independent India participatory governance was a design for democratizing governance in its true sense Participation also acted as a vehicle for localizing governance The author draws on both Western and non Western theoretical treatises and the book seeks to conceptualize localizing governance also as a contextual response It also makes the argument that despite being located in different socio economic and political milieu thinkers converge to appreciate localizing governance as perhaps the only reliable means to democratize governance The book aims to confirm this argument by reference to sets of evidence from the Indian experience of localizing governance By attempting a genealogy of participatory governance in the West and in India and an empirical study of participatory governance in India the book sheds light on the exchange of ideas and concepts through space and time thus adding to the growing body of literature in the social sciences on conceptual flow It will be of interest to political scientists and historians in particularly those studying South Asia New Lamps for Old? J. Devika ,Binitha V. Thampi,2012-06-25 Based on a large number of interviews with women politicians of many generations and women who have entered the three tier Panchayati Raj institutions since the mid 1990s in Kerala this book tries to initiate fresh debate on the impact of the large scale induction of women into the institutions of local self government in India The State of Kerala has been hailed as a success story in accommodating gender concerns in local level planning and political decentralisation this conclusion has been based on relatively simple evaluative exercises that ask whether women of diverse backgrounds have gained entry into formal institutions of governance or not This book seeks to place political decentralisation and its possibilities for women within the historical and contemporary contexts Against the popular assumption that the liberal feminist promise made by the state will be delivered say once the noxious influence of male relatives is removed the book points to the multiple social forces that shape possibilities and hindrances for women and reshape gender divisions in the political field The book thus pays attention to women in both local governance and politics Secondly it examines how women have utilised extended survived within or subverted these spaces In the present context in which fifty per cent of the seats in the institutions of local self government are being reserved for women and there exists considerable skepticism about reservations for women in the Parliament this book offers reflections on both local governance and high politics Published by Zubaan SAPANA: Poverty in South Asia Imtiaz Alam,2006 Journal of Social and Economic Development ,2005 With reference to India The Book Review ,2005 South Asian Survey ,2006 Asian Cities in an Era of Decentralisation Michelle Ann Miller,Tim Bunnell,2016-03-16 This book critically engages with the idea of decentralization as empowering cities and their residents to act innovatively and creatively The contributions thus highlight how the term empowerment in the context of decentralization regimes masks a competing array of intentions and agendas Who and what are empowered given a voice and allowed to participate via the processes and structures of decentralization and to what ends are too frequently assumed in normative conversations about bringing government closer to the people and community driven development Creating an illusion of a shared language and common set of priorities therefore obscures more complex realities particularly when there is a disconnect between the official goals of decentralization and civil society aspirations that reinforces politics of exclusion at the grassroots Equally official processes of decentralization can and often are accompanied by less visible processes of recentralization through the reassertion of central state control over putatively autonomous jurisdictions Through studies in six Asian countries India the Philippines Indonesia Bangladesh Thailand and Japan the essays in this book examine cases whereby a range of urban actors and institutions have been empowered via decentralization and how this realignment of local power relations impacts upon the dynamics of urban governance albeit not always in socially progressive ways This book was published as a special issue of Space and Polity Combating Poverty and Inequality Yusuf Bangura,2010 Poverty reduction is a central feature of the international development agenda and contemporary poverty reduction strategies increasingly focus on targeting the poor yet poverty and inequality remain intractable foes The report seeks to explain why people are poor and why inequalities exist As well as what can be done to rectify these injustices it explores the causes dynamics and persistence of poverty examines what works and what has gone wrong in international policy thinking and practice and lays out a range of policies and institutional measures that countries can adopt to alleviate poverty The Indian Journal of Agricultural Economics ,2004 Vols include Proceedings of the conference of the Indian Society of Agricultural Economics South Asia 2007 Europa Publications,2006-11-16 A unique source of social and economic information on this increasingly important region The Journal of Parliamentary Information ,2004 Guide to Indian Periodical Literature ,2005 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2004 Sustainable Development in a Globalized World Björn Hettne,2008-01-15 This book offers a highly original approach to the analysis of globalization and global governance Focusing on important global issues such as development peace and security the international authors present a true multicultural perspective on the impact of globalization on development and peace Social Action ,2005 American Book Publishing Record ,2005 The Indian National Bibliography ,2005
