E-Pedagogy for the Digital Age Dr. P. C. Nagasubramani, Adult learners have more options for enrolling in postsecondary education than ever before and they are able to use their learning style preference in deciding which program best meets their needs For some of these students those programs are fully online and for others there is minimal use of technology As technology grows and become more integrated into individual lives the unique learning styles and preferences of adults need to learn to be incorporated into instructional design Drawing on a regional sample of US colleges 545 adult learners in a graduate programs were surveyed about how to effectively build community in their online classes Results indicated some agreement with these instructional tools Mature adult learners however were found to have stronger agreement with strategies that included work outside of the formal online class These results suggest perhaps a greater comfort for adults in working in spaces where there is less likelihood of being judged or graded and that they might value relational work with other students in different ways than younger adults Wearable Wireless Devices Qammer H. Abbasi,Hadi Heidari,Akram Alomainy,2020-03-18 With the growing interest in the use of technology in daily life the potential for using wearable wireless devices across multiple segments e g healthcare sports child monitoring military emergency consumer electronics etc is rapidly increasing Multibillion wearable sensors are predicted to be in use by 2025 with over 30% of them being new types of sensors that are only beginning to emerge This book will focus on wireless wearable and implantable systems flexible textile based electronics bio electromagnetics antennas and propagation radio frequency RF circuits sensors security of wearables and implantable systems nano bio communication and electromagnetic sensing
