Searching For An Adequate God:

Searching for an Adequate God David Ray Griffin, 2000 In this book advocates of both process and free will theism come together for the first time to describe their respective theological perspectives and enter into constructive dialogue with each other Featuring two of today's best philosophers David R Griffin representing process theology and William Hasker representing free will theism as well as theologians interested in both views this volume provides a fully orb'd discussion of these two vital theological positions In Search for a Theology Capable of Mourning H. Martin

Rumscheidt, 2017-10-20 To what extent are the children of Holocaust perpetrators to feel remorseful or responsible for their parents wrongdoing Is the yearning by those offspring of Nazi sympathizers for forgiveness justified or should they separate themselves from their parents or relatives and ignore the history Such dilemmas have gnawed at theologian Martin Rumscheidt ever since at age eighteen he discovered his father's complicity in using Jewish slave labor at his workplace IG Farben He has written and spoken extensively about his journey in search of what he calls a theology of mourning that would preserve his concept of the reality of God and still recognize the reality at times grim reality of life In Search of the Common Good Dennis McCann, Patrick D. Miller, 2005-02-04 Biblical scholars and theologians search for the meaning of the common good for our time The Lord is the Spirit Andrew K. Gabriel, 2011-01-01 The Lord is the Spirit 2 Cor 3 17 and yet one might be excused for thinking otherwise when reading studies on God's attributes omnipotence omniscience omnipresence immutability impassibility and the like Although Christians throughout the ages have defended the deity of the Holy Spirit theologians have not adequately taken the doctrine of the Holy Spirit into account when formulating a theology of the divine attributes The resulting understandings of God fall short of being fully Trinitarian Gabriel builds on contemporary Trinitarian theology by advocating for the integration of insights from pneumatology into the doctrine of God's attributes Three case studies are presented impassibility immutability and omnipotence Gabriel writes from an evangelical and Pentecostal vantage point as he engages in ecumenical dialogue with a wide spectrum of historical and contemporary theological voices The Negro's Church Benjamin E. Professor Emeritus of Morehouse College A Classical Response to Relational Theism Brian J. Orr, 2022-02-17 The classical doctrine of God expresses that the God of the Bible is triune a se simple immutable impassible eternal and the sovereign Lord over his creation which he created from himself Modern streams of theology within the evangelical circle continue to promote a doctrine of God that sharply contrasts the classical view the traditional view of God in Christian theism Therefore a critical response to such a theology is needed This study is a comprehensive analysis and sustained critique of Thomas Jay Oord's open relational doctrine of God Oord's model substitutes process metaphysics for classical metaphysics while attempting to retain foundational Christian doctrines that were established within a classical metaphysical framework

Who Rules the World Hans Schwarz, 2021-03-30 Over a career spanning more than fifty years Hans Schwarz has grappled with nearly all of Christianity's major theological questions. In this latest volume Schwarz tackles the perennial problem of evil. How is it possible to reconcile the manifest evil and pain in the world with the biblical promise of hope and redemption? Are we in fact lonely wanderers in the immensity of the universe about whom nobody cares, or is there something above and beyond us in which we can trust? To this perennial question Schwarz brings his signature blend of pastoral sensitivity and scholarly acumen. Informed by decades in the classroom, Schwarz offers a sweeping survey of views of the problem of evil, beginning with the world's major religious traditions before focusing on the major views across the broad span of Christian history. The book aims to help readers interested in the problem of evil understand the broad sweep of human thought about the problem and make informed assessments of the issue for themselves. Reformed and Always

Reforming Roger E. Olson, 2007-10. Well-known theologian Roger Olson defines and traces the history of postconservative evangelical theology. In Search of Evidence Emmanuel Amurawaiye MD, 2013-11. Does God exist? Man has not been able to give a credible answer to that question despite advances in knowledge. As a result, the world remains confused about religion and whether to believe claims made by sacred books like the Bible and the Quran. Is it true that unbelievers would end up in Hell? Did God give Moses the Ten Commandments and the other 600 laws of the Old Testament? Did God reveal the Quran to Prophet Muhammad? To answer these and other questions, In Search of Evidence looks at passages taken from various Scriptures. It contends that while we may not be able to conclusively determine whether God exists or not, there is enough evidence to determine whether the contents of the sacred books of the world's religions were revealed by an omniscient being, God. Religion does not need to be taken on faith. This book provides a framework for meaningful and objective rather than a faith-based search for the truth. God All Sufficient. [A Tract on Gen. xvii. 1.] J. TRESTRAIL, 1872

God-Man. ... Search and Manifestation Luther Tracy TOWNSEND, 1872. Arguing about Religion Kevin Timpe, 2009. Arguing About Religion is an ideal collection for students interested in contemporary philosophy of religion and related disciplines. This volume brings together primary readings from over 40 of the world's leading philosophers of religion, covering a broad range of issues. Set alongside these works of academic philosophy are excerpts from controversial popular works by Daniel Dennett and Richard Dawkins in order to introduce the philosophical issues in a way that demonstrates their relevance to everyday life and sets them in the context of contemporary cultural discourse. The volume is divided into 6 parts, helping the student get to grips with classic and core arguments. Topics covered include methodological issues in philosophy of religion, God's nature and existence, evil and divine hiddenness, providence and interaction, the afterlife, religion and contemporary life. Featuring lucid general and section introductions and a glossary by volume editor Kevin Timpe, Arguing About Religion is an ideal starting point for students coming to philosophy of religion for the first time. The Possibility of Salvation Among the Unevangelised Daniel Strange, 2002. Between Horror and Hope is a study of Paul's metaphorical language of death in Romans 6:1-11. The scholarly debate focuses on two main issues: the origin of the commentatio mortis tradition and its development Dr Sabou argues that the origin of this terminology is original to Paul that it was the apostle's own insight into the meaning of Christ's death a death to sin and his understanding of the identity of Christ in his death as the anointed davidic king which guided him to create this metaphor of dying to sin as a way of describing the relationship of the believer with sin On the development of this language of death the author argues that this language conveys two aspects horror and hope The first is discussed in the context of crucifixion in which Paul explains the believer's death to sin by presenting Christ's death as the death of the anointed davidic king who won the victory over sin and death by rising from the dead Paul affirms that believers are coalesced with what was proclaimed about Christ's death and resurrection thereby allowing him to assert that the releasing of the body from the power of sin is a result of crucifixion This crucifixion is the condemnation inflicted on our past lives in the age inaugurated by Adam's sin and this is such a horrible event that believers have to stay away from sin since sin leads to such punishment In contrast hope is presented in the context of burial The believer's burial with Christ points to the fact that they are part of Christ's family and this is accomplished by the overwhelming action of God by which he pushes us toward the event of Christ's death an act pictured in baptism It is this burial with Christ that allows believers to share with Christ in newness of life
