Love for Sale David Hajdu, 2016-10-18 Named a Must Read by Vanity Fair and BBC One of our sharpest music critics recounts a life immersed in pop music An engaging history The Wall Street Journal In Love for Sale David Hajdu one of the most respected critics and music historians of our time draws on a lifetime of listening playing and writing about music to show how pop has done much more than peddle fantasies of love and sex to teenagers From vaudeville singer Eva Tanguay the I Don't Care Girl who upended Victorian conceptions of feminine propriety to become one of the biggest stars of her day to the scandal of Blondie playing disco at CBGB Hajdu presents an incisive and idiosyncratic history of a form that has repeatedly upset social and cultural expectations Exhaustively researched and rich with fresh insights Love for Sale is unbound by the usual tropes of pop music history Hajdu for instance gives a star turn to Bessie Smith and the blues queens of the 1920s who brought wildly transgressive sexuality to American audience decades before rock and roll And there is Jimmie Rodgers a former blackface minstrel performer who created country music from the songs of rural whites and blacks entwined with the sound of the Swiss yodel And then there are today's practitioners of Electronic Dance Music who Hajdu celebrates for carrying the pop revolution to heretofore unimaginable frontiers At every turn Hajdu surprises and challenges readers to think about our most familiar art in unexpected ways Masterly and impassioned authoritative and at times deeply personal Love for Sale is a book of critical history informed by its writer's own unique history as a besotted fan and lifelong student of pop

Home/Schooling Kyle Greenwalt, 2016-03-22 During the nineteenth century social reformers took hold of an already existing institution the school and sought to make it compulsory In the process they supplanted parents and domestic life the home as the primary educational force for children As education was taken out of the home American classrooms were at the same time remade into a particular kind of home life one based upon a sentimentalized maternity where love can always triumph over the public and masculine forces of competition merit and hierarchy And so love entered into the discourse of teaching In this model a good teacher loves her students She makes her classroom into a home Like a good mother she sacrifices for them enduring long hours of isolation low pay and little public support or recognition Students in their turn should love their teacher To please her they should learn the values that would sustain a more virtuous republic Parenting through all of this was redefined as a private activity Battle lines were drawn and the stakes were love learning and control It doesn't need to be this way It is time to rethink the ways in which parents and teachers interact with one another It is time to redefine homeschooling as something all families engage in and that all public schools should seek to support
