Preserving Washingtons History:

The Conservation Movement: A History of Architectural Preservation Miles Glendinning, 2013-01-17 Winner of the 2016 Antoinette Forrester Downing Award presented by the Society of Architectural Historians In many cities across the world particularly in Europe old buildings form a prominent part of the built environment and we often take it for granted that their contribution is intrinsically positive How has that widely shared belief come about and is its continued general acceptance inevitable Certainly ancient structures have long been treated with care and reverence in many societies including classical Rome and Greece But only in modern Europe and America in the last two centuries has this care been elaborated and energised into a forceful dynamic ideology a Conservation Movement infused with a sense of historical destiny and loss that paradoxically shared many of the characteristics of Enlightenment modernity The close inter relationship between conservation and modern civilisation was most dramatically heightened in periods of war or social upheaval beginning with the French Revolution and rising to a tragic climax in the 20th century age of totalitarian extremism more recently the troubled relationship of heritage and global commercialism has become dominant Miles Glendinning s new book authoritatively presents for the first time the entire history of this architectural Conservation Movement and traces its dramatic fluctuations in ideas and popularity ending by questioning whether its recent international ascendancy can last indefinitely

Historic Preservation in the USA Karolin Frank, 2013-03-09 Since the 1960s public attention has been drawn increasingly towards the thematic link between historic preservation and urban planning Nowadays the organized historic preservation movement in the USA is more than a mere yearning for history it represents an active and integral part of urban planning in US cities In order to approach these planning economic and social issues in the field of historic preservation this book analyzes a variety of interdisciplinary methods focusing on four selected historic districts within the central business districts of Philadelphia and Boston in the north and Charleston and Savannah in the south Historic Preservation Resources ,1991 Certified Local Governments in the National Historic Preservation Program ,1986
