Code Musicology Denis Crowdy, 2022-06-15 Software mediates a great deal of human musical activity The writing running and maintenance of code lies at the heart of such software Code Musicology From Hardwired to Software argues why it is time for a code musicology then outlines what that should entail A code musicology opens a conduit between musicology and software studies providing insights into both of these now interlinked fields along the way It extends an ethnomusicology of technoculture from the world of hardware and the hardwired to software code and algorithms For popular music studies it helps direct attention to a newly relevant industrial focus IT and software centered transnational commerce as a result of sectorial transformation Denis Crowdy demonstrates how analysis from software studies critical code studies and the digital humanities offers insights into power relations diversity and commerce in music Crowdy weaves readings of code and application programming interfaces APIs into the discussion as well as ethnomusicological fieldwork exploring music and mobile phones from the Global South Analysis of the author's own music apps and associated distribution infrastructure provides unique insights into the machinations of music appification Living with Algorithms Ignacio Siles, 2023-04-25 A nuanced account from a user perspective of what it's like to live in a datafied world We live in a media saturated society that increasingly transforms our experiences relations and identities into data others can analyze and monetize Algorithms are key to this process surveilling our most mundane practices and to many their control over our lives seems absolute In Living with Algorithms Ignacio Siles critically challenges this view by surveying user dynamics in the global south across three algorithmic platforms Netflix Spotify and TikTok and finds surprisingly a more balanced relationship Drawing on a wealth of empirical evidence that privileges the user over the corporate Siles examines the personal relationships that have formed between users and algorithms as Latin Americans have integrated these systems into the structures of everyday life enacted them ritually participated in public with and through them and thwarted them Sometimes users follow algorithms Siles finds and sometimes users resist them At times users do both Agency lies in the navigation of the spaces in between By analyzing what we do with algorithms rather than what algorithms do to us Living with Algorithms clarifies the debate over the future of datafication and whether we have a say in its development Concentrating on an understudied region of the global south the book provides a new perspective on the commonalities and differences among users within a global ecology of technologies Streaming Sounds Michael James Walsh, 2024-03-29 In a time when music streaming has become the dominant mode of consuming music recordings this book interrogates how users go about listening to music in their everyday lives in a context where streaming services are focused on not only the circulation of music for users but also the circulation of user data and attention Drawing insights directly from interviews with users music streaming is explained as never merely a neutral technology but rather one that seeks to actively shape user engagement Users respond to streaming platforms with some relishing these aspects that provide music to be drawn into daily activities while others show signs of resistance It is this tension that this book explores This unique and accessible study will be ideal reading for both scholars and students of popular music studies communication studies sociology media and cultural studies

Finn and Ezra's Bar Mitzvah Time Loop Joshua S. Levy, 2024-05-14 Finn and Ezra's bar mitzvah weekend takes on a Groundhog Day twist in this hilarious and magical middle grade novel from Joshua S. Levy Winner of a National Jewish Book Award and a Sydney Taylor Honor Book Finn and Ezra don't have a lot in common except of course that they're trapped in a bar mitzvah time loop reliving their celebrations in the same New Jersey hotel over and over and over again Not ideal particularly when both kids were ready for their bar mitzvahs to end the moment they began Ezra comes from a big family four siblings all seeming to get more attention than him even on his bar mitzvah weekend Finn is an only child who's tired of his parents' constant focus even worse on his bar mitzvah weekend They just want to get past it just want to grow up And now they're both stuck Friday Saturday Sunday No way out Until Finn and Ezra meet and realize they're not alone Teaming up they try everything they can think of to break the loop But nothing works and after every reset the boys' schemes become more desperate As their frustrations build the questions mount and real life problems start to seep through the cracks With all the time in the world can Finn and Ezra ever figure out how to move forward
