The Greenwood Encyclopedia of Daily Life in America Randall M. Miller, 2008-12-30 The course of daily life in the United States has been a product of tradition environment and circumstance How did the Civil War alter the lives of women both white and black left alone on southern farms How did the Great Depression change the lives of working class families in eastern cities How did the discovery of gold in California transform the lives of native American Hispanic and white communities in western territories Organized by time period as spelled out in the National Standards for U S History these four volumes effectively analyze the diverse whole of American experience examining the domestic economic intellectual material political recreational and religious life of the American people between 1763 and 2005 Working under the editorial direction of general editor Randall M Miller professor of history at St Joseph s University a group of expert volume editors carefully integrate material drawn from volumes in Greenwood s highly successful Daily Life Through History series with new material researched and written by themselves and other scholars The four volumes cover the following periods The War of Independence and Antebellum Expansion and Reform 1763 1861 The Civil War Reconstruction and the Industrialization of America 1861 1900 The Emergence of Modern America World War I and the Great Depression 1900 1940 and Wartime Postwar and Contemporary America 1940 Present Each volume includes a selection of primary documents a timeline of important events during the period images illustrating the text and extensive bibliography of further information resources both print and electronic and a detailed subject index

Semantische Frames in interkultureller Markenkommunikation Lisa Hackinger, 2024-04-30 Unter Anwendung der Frame Theorie wird in diesem Buch die Rolle von nicht verbalisiertem Vorwissen in der interkulturellen Markenkommunikation untersucht Eine starke Marke ist ein sowohl komplexes als auch fiktionales Konstrukt das sich neben verschiedenen Oberflächenmerkmalen auch aus Assoziationen Empfindungen und Hintergrundwissen zur Marke zusammensetzt Mit einer kognitiv linguistischen Vorgehensweise wird anhand von vier Fallbeispielen analysiert welche unterschiedlichen Kommunikationsstrategien etablierte Unternehmen zur interkulturellen Positionierung von Marken nutzen und inwieweit diese sich in der Wahrnehmung der Rezipienten widerspiegeln Dabei wird von einem holistischen Denkansatz ausgegangen bei dem Sprachwissen und Weltwissen eine untrennbare Einheit darstellen und der Fokus liegt darauf zu verstehen wie abstraktes und k nstlich erzeugtes Wissen um eine Marke kommunikativ etabliert werden kann und welche Rolle die landeskulturelle Bedingtheit hierbei spielt

Creating Africa in America Jacqueline Copeland-Carson, 2012-03-13 With a booming economy that afforded numerous opportunities for immigrants throughout the 1990s the Twin Cities area has attracted people of African descent from throughout the United States and the world and is fast becoming a transnational metropolis Minnesota s largest urban area the region now also has the country s most diverse black population A closely drawn ethnography Creating Africa in America Translocal Identity in an Emerging World City seeks to understand and evaluate the process of identity formation in the context of globalization in a way that is also site specific Bringing to this study a rich and interesting professional history and expertise Jacqueline Copeland Carson focuses on a Minneapolis based nonprofit the Cultural Wellness Center which combines different ethnic approaches to bodily health and community well being as the basis for a shared translocal African culture The book explores how the body can become a surrogate locus for identity thus displacing territory as the key referent for organizing and experiencing African diasporan diversity Showing how alternatives are created to mainstream majority and Afrocentric approaches to identity she addresses the way that bridges can be built in the African diaspora among different African immigrant African American and other groups As this thoughtful and compassionate ethnographic study shows the fact that there is no simple and concrete way to define how one can be African in contemporary America reflects the tangled nature of cultural processes and social relations at large Copeland Carson demonstrates the cultural creativity and social dexterity of people living in an urban setting and suggests that anthropologists give more attention to the role of the nonprofit sector as a forum for creating community and identity throughout African diasporan history in the United States

Child Rearing in America Neal Halfon,Kathryn Taaffe McLearn,Mark A. Schuster,2002-07-08 This rich and well researched volume comes in the wake of intense national interest in young children Leading scholars from diverse disciplines use relevant data from the Commonwealth Survey of Parents with Young Children to present new information about the lives of families with very young children how parents spend their time with their children the economic and social challenges they face and the supports they receive to improve their children s health and development Such a broad portrait based on nationally representative data has not been attempted before Drawing on their extensive expertise and research in the issues being addressed the authors examine and elaborate on the survey findings They synthesize the major themes emerging from the data and consider the family community and policy implications to frame and interpret the results What emerges is a picture of the complex forces that influence families and child rearing in the early years
