

Choking Prevention

NURSE'S NOTES

Choking is a common breathing emergency that occurs when the airway is partially, or completely blocked.

Signs of choking include, face turning red, lips turning blue, food spilling out of the mouth, inability to talk, wide eyes, or unconsciousness.

For people with disabilities, eating the wrong diet texture and lack of needed supervision are the leading causes of choking-related incidents.

Other contributing choking factors can be, staff not familiar with person's prescribed diet, not chewing food completely, and eating too quickly.

Caregivers should provide physical support as needed, offer slow teaspoon-size bites, and acquire an assessment of the person's eating and swallowing skills.

If someone is choking, follow first aid/CPR training, call 911, and perform abdominal thrusts along with back blows. Move person to a hard, flat surface if need be and initiate CPR.

If you are alone and choking dial 911 if you are able to, make a fist with one hand, place the thumb of that hand below your rib cage and above your navel, grasp your fist with your other hand, and press your fist forcibly into the upper abdominal area with a quick upward movement. You may lean over a chair or counter to help with the thrust. Remember, caregivers successfully intervene with choking numerous times each year saving lives!
