Reality Of The Mass Media:

The Reality of the Mass Media Niklas Luhmann, 2000-06-08 In The Reality of the Mass Media Luhmann extends his theory of social systems applied in his earlier works to the economy the political system art religion the sciences and law to an examination of the role of mass media in the constitution of social reality Luhmann argues that the system of mass media is a set of recursive self referential programmes of communication whose functions are not determined by the external values of truthfulness objectivity or knowledge nor by specific social interests or political directives Rather he contends that the system of mass media is regulated by the internal code information non information which enables the system to select its information news from its own environment and to communicate this information in accordance with its own reflexive criteria Despite its self referential quality however Luhmann describes the mass media as one of the key cognitive systems of modern society by means of which society constructs the illusion of its own reality The reality of mass media he argues allows societies to process information without destabilizing social roles or overburdening social actors It forms a broad reservoir memory of options for the future co ordination of action and it provides parameters for the stabilization of political expectations In these respects it has a crucial function in the general self reproduction of society as it produces a continuous self description of the world around which modern society can orientate itself In his discussion of mass media Luhmann elaborates a theory of communication in which communication is seen not as the act of a particular consciousness nor the medium of integrative social norms but merely the technical codes through which systemic operations arrange and perpetuate themselves This book will be of great interest to third year students graduate students and scholars in sociology politics social and political theory media and cultural studies and communication studies

Mass Media in a Mass Society Richard Hoggart, 2004 Hoggart takes a number of aspects of mass society today celebrity worship youth culture broadcasting and a decline in the proper use of language and considers the paradox that the ready accessibility of information of all types does not automatically lead to greater comprehension of our world Information itself is inert and only leads to knowledge if it has been ordered and assessed He assesses the slow but uninterrupted dissolution of old beliefs the erosion of the traditional pillars of authority throughout a century and a half of sustained intellectual criticism of existing assumptions and beliefs and the resulting corruption of language Klappentext

Research on the Communication Effects and Mass Media Credibility in China Guoming Yu, 2022-10-29 This book establishes a measurement index to quantify China s mass media public credibility based on extensive research and the encapsulation of measurement theories and approaches related to media public credibility as well as numerous empirical case studies from the international academic community over the past hundred years The investigation into the current state of Chinese mass media public credibility and discussion on practical approaches to enhancing such public credibility is highly significant in the context of research on media public credibility The book focuses on two fundamental issues i investigating the basic factors the Chinese audience values as the yardstick for media credibility and ii formulating a media public credibility measurement scale Relying on data from investigations the authors analyze the importance of various assessment benchmarks for measuring media public credibility and the characteristics of public credibility assessment Lastly a measurement scale is created by screening and analyzing measurement indices with statistical methods such as exploratory and authenticated factor analyses and credibility and validity testing which is of high theoretical and practical scientific value

The New World Order Ideology and Africa Tatah Mentan, 2010 The New World Order Ideology expressed in the form of neoliberal globalization has been used by numerous politicians scholars and media men through the ages It refers to a worldwide conspiracy to effect complete and total control over the planet through money farming This book examines the case of Africa put directly on the chopping board as client states by this ideology when less hampered by idealistic slogans as human rights raising living standards and democratization to better the achievement of the agenda of the money farmers whose goal is to establish government by loan operations The money farmers strategy as in credit card companies is to lend as much as the subject target can borrow and still pay fees charges and interest payments

This means to encourage them to borrow loan after loan consolidate all other loans and keep lending up until the crop of foreign exchange seems in jeopardy The ideal from the Lending Agency viewpoint is to get an African country maxed out on loans to the point that it actually operates all of its government and the nation on LOANS Once that goal is achieved you basically have a never ending crop of FOREIGN EXCHANGE from helpless and hopeless African governments and people Here is Tatah Mentan at his trenchant best      The SAGE Handbook of Risk Communication Hyunyi Cho,Torsten examines whether advertising agencies have targeted post communist citizens differently than those in Western European countries and if the media markets in the post communist region are fundamentally different than in Western Europe and North America A second focus of the volume is the media coverage of social issues like domestic violence which is intended to draw attention to these issues and influence policy in a more aware and open society This establishes the trend of post communist media following the example of western media practice The implications of the Central European media transformation for the newly transforming media markets in the post Soviet space suggest a new phase in the development of the medium The impact of global influences on regional expression is an important aspect of the political and social changes that are underway This volume makes an important interdisciplinary contribution in examining the development of the media
