Searching for an Autoethnographic Ethic Stephen Andrew, 2017-01-12 This volume is a call for integrity in autoethnographic research Stephen Andrew weaves together philosophy critical theory and extended self reflections to demonstrate how and why qualitative researchers should assess the ethical quality of their work He also offers practical tools designed to limit the likelihood of self indulgence and solipsism in first person writing Equally instructive and exemplary his work Is written in a relatable style that draws readers in and encourages them to think critically about the implications and effects of their writing Examines the history of qualitative and autoethnographic research Provides implementable strategies for textualizing lived experiences and relationships with others Ethics, Love, and Faith in Kierkegaard Edward F.

Mooney, 2008-07-17 Ethics Love and Faith in Kierkegaard collects essays from 13 leading scholars that center on key themes that characterize Kierkegaard s philosophy of religion With their unique focus on notions of the self views on the command to love one s neighbor thoughts on melancholy and despair and the articulation of religious vision the essays in this volume cover the breadth and depth of Kierkegaard s philosophical and religious writings Poised at the intersection of Kierkegaard s moral psychology and its religious significance they offer vivid testimony to the ongoing power of his unique and fervent religious spirit Students and scholars alike will find new light shed on questions that define Kierkegaard s philosophy and religion today Ethics and the Search for Values Luis E. Navia, Eugene Kelly, 1980 An essential introduction to ethics and values this comprehensive anthology places the perennial human search for ethical values into historical perspective The philosophers included are Aristotle Marcus Aurelius Bentham Cicero Dewey Hartman Hume James Kant Kierkegaard Mill Moore Nietzsche Plato Sartre Scheler Schopenhauer Spencer Spinoza St Augustine and Stevenson Do I Look at You with Love? Mark Freeman, 2021-02-15 Do I Look at You with Love were the words uttered by Mark Freeman s mother when she learned once again that he was her son This book explores the experience of dementia as it transpired during the course of the final twelve years of her life from the time of her diagnosis until her death in 2016 at age 93 As a longtime student of memory identity and narrative as well as the son of a woman with dementia he had a remarkable opportunity to try to understand and tell her story Much of the story is tragic But there were other periods and other dimensions of relationship that were beautiful and that could not have emerged without her very affliction In the midst of affliction there were gifts arriving unbidden that served to alert Freeman and his family to what is most precious and real These are part of the story too Part narrative psychology part memoir part meditation on the beauty and light that might be found amidst the ravages of time and memory Freeman s moving story is emblematic of nothing less than the bittersweet reality of life itself An Introduction to Qualitative Research Maria K. E. Lahman, 2024-04-17 This engaging introduction to all aspects of qualitative research challenges students to consider how their research can be culturally responsive The first part of the book introduces the foundations including theory ethics and reflexivity with an emphasis on multiple methodologies from traditional to critical and cutting edge The second part covers practical guidance from writing proposals to data collection and includes a chapter dedicated to creating a culturally responsive relationship with research participants Finally readers engage with how the quality of research is enhanced how data are analyzed and how research accounts are created and disseminated Areas vital to the health of qualitative research are addressed including systemic racism and cultural humility with cutting edge suggestions offered in areas like hybrid research harnessing technology and use of social media Multiple identities are centered in examples throughout including race gender and those who are hard to reach or seldom heard in research Textboxes featuring scholars student researchers and community members invite readers into dialogue in an area that is contested swiftly shifting and always vibrant with potential Resources for instructors are available on a website to accompany the book

Medical Sciences CIOMS to guide revision of the CIOMS International Ethical Guidelines for Biomedical Research Involving Human Subjects The Guidelines first issued in 1982 and then revised in 1993 are being updated and expanded to address a number of new and especially challenging ethical issues These include issues raised by international collaborative trials of drugs in developing countries especially expensive drugs and the use of placebo controls in randomized clinical trials Others arise from the complexity of research in human genetics including stem cell research and in reproductive biology Throughout particular attention is given to the difficult questions that arose during the heated debate over trials in developing countries of short duration zidovudine AZT therapy to reduce perinatal transmission of HIV The International Ethical Guidelines for Biomedical Research Involving Human Subjects set out a code of research ethics that is widely used by ethical review committees and other bodies responsible for reviewing and overseeing the ethical design of studies and conduct of research The revision of the Guidelines is being coordinated by CIOMS in collaboration with WHO The consultation centered on seven specially commissioned papers authored by international experts that explore some of the more difficult issues in depth Each is followed by an invited commentary often expressing opposing views and a summary of the issues or conclusions that emerged during the subsequent debate The first paper on justice in international research deals with the question of whether proposals for research to be conducted in a developing country should make provision for future access of the population involved to the interventions under investigation Also considered are questions that arise when research uses populations in developing countries to investigate interventions that will be of exclusive benefit to the industrialized world Case studies of recent drug trials and their research protocols are discussed to illustrate circumstances in which use of populations in developing countries is justified or constitutes exploitation Ethical challenges of the randomized controlled trial are considered in the second paper which includes a discussion on the equitable distribution of benefits and risks the use of placebo for controls and the obligation to ensure that the participation of controls does not compromise their medical care or endanger their health A paper on informed consent in international health research considers how cultural factors influence communication and language in the informed consent process and respect for privacy and confidentiality in the research Subsequent papers address issues in genetics research and reproductive biology including the moral status of fetuses and the use of embryos in research and examine the contribution which international human rights instruments can make in the application of the general principles of ethics to research involving human subjects The final paper gives an overview of capacity building and the role of communities in international biomedical research The Conservator ,1894
