What Needs to be Done to Promote Bicycling and Walking?, 1992      Mindfulness, Mind-body Exercises, and Health Promotion Guodong Zhang, Yang Cao, Zi Yan, 2025-02-14 High intensity sports and physical exercise have been linked to various health benefits However when it comes to increasing longevity these activities may not be an ideal option for the general population Mind body exercise which combines physical exercise with mindfulness may be more effective in promoting and restoring health especially for those with chronic symptoms or poor health conditions Many mind body exercises such as Taichi Qigong Chan Chuang and Yoga have their roots in Eastern cultures They have gained popularity around the world and became a new fashion in the post COVID 19 era These exercises typically help practitioners shift their focus from the outside world past or future to the present moment through gentle body movements Mind body exercises emphasize the body s innate ability to heal itself By disconnecting from the noisy outside world the body is given the opportunity to heal This aligns with the classic belief in Chinese medicine that the body itself is the best medicine      Health Promotion in Schools, Universities, Workplaces, and Communities Graça S. Carvalho, Emily Darlington, Teresa Vilaça, 2024-12-17 Health education well being improvement and advocacy are effective health promotion strategies among cutting edge Public Health practices Salutogenic perspectives rooted in ecological models have taken their rightful place to empower individuals and communities to change their life ecosystems and preserve and improve their health It is imperative to shift from targeting protective or risk factors which have linear causal relationships with health conditions and or comorbidities and encompass a systemic understanding of the role of health determinants in creating health Individual collective and structural ecological approaches can better reduce health inequities Moreover engaging the presumed beneficiaries from such strategies ensures that actual needs are identified and choices are context specific It improves the whole implementation process as well as its results Higher levels of participation such as co creation imply a bottom up voluntary collaborative process rooted in values of diversity mutual trust openness autonomy freedom and respect as well as shared expertise responsibility and decision making which are essential values in co creating health promotion
