Utopia and Dystopia in the Age of Trump Barbara Brodman, James E. Doan, 2019-06-04 Utopia and Dystopia in the Age of Trump Images from Literature and Visual Arts treats literature film television series and comic books dealing with utopian and dystopian worlds reflecting on or anticipating our current age From Henry James s dreamlike utopia of The Great Good Place to the psychotic world of Brett Easton Ellis s American Psycho from science fiction and recent horror films television adaptations of books such as Margaret Atwood s The Handmaid s Tale and new series such as Black Mirror to the repressive Hitlerian dystopia of Katherine Burdekin s Swastika Night the contributors examine the development of scenarios that either prefigure the rise of individuals such as Donald J Trump or suggest alternatives to them Ultimately one might say of the worlds presented here viewed from different social and political perspectives one person s utopia is another s dystopia This is the fifth in a series of books edited by Barbara Brodman and James E Doan and published by Rowman Littlefield with Fairleigh Dickinson University Press The Universal Vampire Origins and Evolution of a Legend and Images of the Modern Vampire The Hip and the Atavistic both in 2013 focused on the vampire legend in traditional and modern thought The Supernatural Revamped From Timeworn Legends to Twenty First Century Chic 2016 examined a range of supernatural beings in literature film and other forms of popular culture Apocalyptic Chic Visions of the Apocalypse and Post Apocalypse in Literature and Visual Arts 2017 dealt with legends and images of the apocalypse and post apocalypse in film and graphic arts literature and lore from early to modern times and from peoples and cultures around the world

Divine Programming Charlotte E. Howell, 2020-03-02 From the mid 90s to the present television drama with religious content has come to reflect the growing cultural divide between white middle America and concentrated urban elites As author Charlotte E Howell argues in this book by 2016 television narratives of white Christianity had become entirely disconnected from the religion they were meant to represent Programming labeled family friendly became a euphemism for white middlebrow America and developing audience niches became increasingly significant to serial dramatic television Utilizing original case studies and interviews Divine Programming investigates the development writing producing marketing and positioning of key series including 7th Heaven Friday Night Lights Rectify Supernatural Jane the Virgin Daredevil and Preacher As this book shows there has historically been a deep ambivalence among television production cultures regarding religion and Christianity more specifically It illustrates how middle American television audiences lost significance within the Hollywood television industry and how this in turn has informed and continues to inform television programming on a larger scale In recent years upscale audience niches have aligned with the perceived tastes of affluent educated multicultural and importantly secular elites As a result the televised representation of white Christianity had to be othered and shifted into the unreality of fantastic genres to appeal to niche audiences To examine this effect Howell looks at religious representation through four approaches establishment distancing displacement and use and looks at series across a variety of genres and outlets in order to provide varied analyses of each theme

Resist! Giuliana Monteverde, Victoria McCollum, 2020-09-04 Resist pays close attention to popular culture it examines the political ramifications of Kanye West's support of Donald Trump the significance of Aaron Sorkin's language to American political discourse and the casting of female emotion as a political force in House of Cards and The Handmaid's Tale In doing so the collection traverses the formal world of the political as it relates to presidential elections and referenda while emphasising the sociocultural and political significance of popular texts which have played a critical role in exploring critiquing and shaping culture in the twenty first century Popular culture is often considered trivial or irrelevant to more pressing political concerns and celebrities are often reprimanded for their forays into the political sphere Resist pays close attention to texts that are too often excluded when we think about politics and explores the cultural and political fallout of a reality TV president and a divisive public vote on increasingly connected global audiences In examining the cultural politics of popular media this collection is inherently interdisciplinary and the chapters utilise methods and analysis from a range of social science and humanities disciplines Resist is both creative and timely and offers a crucial examination of a fascinating and frightening political and cultural moment Emmy, 2009

Vanity Fair, 2016 The Hollywood Reporter, 2009 Television and American Culture Jason Mittell, 2010

Television and American Culture An Overview introduces students to the study of television by looking at American television from a cultural perspective The book is written for intermediate undergraduate and beginning graduate students for a range of television studies courses Specifically Mittell discusses television within the following contexts the economics of the television industry television's role within American democracy the formal attributes of a variety of television genres television as a site of gender and racial identity formation television's role in everyday life and the medium's technological and social impacts The topical arrangement and comprehensive scope of the book differs from other television textbooks arguing that we must incorporate a range of economic political aesthetic and sociological perspectives to fully comprehend the medium of television     The New York Times Index ,2009     New York ,2010     Time Briton Hadden, Henry R. Luce, 2009     The Michigan Journal ,2012     Broadcasting & Cable ,2008-05     The Guardian Index ,1997

Brandweek ,2008     Los Angeles Times ,1972     The Canadian Who's who ,2000     Love, Loss, and What We Ate Padma Lakshmi, 2016-03-08 A vivid memoir of food and family survival and triumph Love Loss and What We Ate traces the arc of Padma Lakshmi's unlikely path from an immigrant childhood to a complicated life in front of the camera a tantalizing blend of Ruth Reichl's Tender at the Bone and Nora Ephron's Heartburn Long before Padma Lakshmi ever stepped onto a television set she learned that how we eat is an extension of how we love how we comfort how we forge a sense of home and how we taste the world as we navigate our way through it Shuttling between continents as a child she lived a life of dislocation that would become habit as an adult never quite at home in the world And yet through all her travels her favorite food remained the simple rice she first ate sitting on the cool floor of her grandmother's kitchen in South India Poignant and surprising Love Loss and What We Ate is Lakshmi's extraordinary account of her journey from that humble kitchen ruled by ferocious and unforgettable women to the judges table of Top Chef and beyond It chronicles the fierce devotion of the remarkable people who shaped her along the way from her headstrong mother who flouted conservative Indian convention to make a life in New York to her Brahmin grandfather a brilliant engineer with an irrepressible sweet tooth to the man seemingly wrong for her in every way who proved to be her truest ally A memoir rich with sensual prose and punctuated with evocative recipes it is alive with the scents tastes and textures of a life that spans complex geographies both internal and external Love Loss and What We Ate is an intimate and unexpected story of food and family both the ones we are born to and the ones we create and their enduring legacies
