MultiCultural Review , 2002 Living on the Borders Mark Griffin, Theron Walker, 2004 The church like many ethnic immigrants has been thrown into the melting pot that is America To some this melting pot is a place where different cultures and races merge to form an integrated society but

Mark Griffin and Theron Walker argue that it is a place where communal traditions are traded in for consumer choices. The result is a homogeneous culture of consumption. As fellow ingredients of this melting pot, Christians have much to learn from ethnic immigrants about what it means to be outsiders. Bringing to light the work of some of America's finest first and second generation immigrant writers, the authors show that life on the borders of the ghetto and the culture of consumption promises freedom, peace, and justice. Latino and Latina Writers Alan West, 2004. A two volume bio-bibliographical and critical examination of numerous Cuban, Dominican, Chicano, and Puerto Rican writers. Includes only authors who have published since 1960. American Book Publishing Record, 1999. Literary Treks Mary Ellen Snodgrass, 2003. Offering a wealth of maps and geographic routes for 28 books, this guide illustrates how to teach with literary maps, taking students on a journey through real and imaginary terrains. Entries span a range of genres and literary formats, including novels, dramas, and diaries; each follows a book's protagonist through space and time, covering places visited as well as historical figures, customs, cultures, and events. Geographic summaries, itemized itineraries, and detailed maps help students trace each character's journey and comprehend the geographic scale of action. As a prelude to reading, the maps can help disadvantaged readers better understand the stories and settings of a book, which will significantly enhance any student's reading experience. Instruction on marking maps with notes and arrows will help students prepare for college-level classes as they organize their work, simplify confusing elements, outline chronology, and incorporate additional reading and research.

American Ethnic Writers, 2009. Covers numerous ethnic writers and their works. All major American ethnicities are covered: African American, Asian American, Jewish American, Hispanic, Latino, and Native American. Twentieth Century Short Story Explication: 1999-2000 Warren S. Walker, 1993. V. 1 contains nearly 6000 entries that provide a bibliography of interpretations for short stories published between 1989 and 1990. Native American, Chicano, and Western American Literatures John Philip Miller-Purrenhage, 2004.
