Rumble In Hong Kongdrunken Master:

Made in Hong Kong Leo Moser, 2000

Cities and Cinema Barbara Mennel, 2008-03-19

Films about cities abound They provide fantasies for those who recognize their city and those for whom the city is a faraway dream or nightmare How does cinema rework city planners hopes and city dwellers fears of modern urbanism Can an analysis of city films answer some of the questions posed in urban studies What kinds of vision for the future and images of the past do city films offer What are the changes that city films have undergone Cities and Cinema puts urban theory and cinema studies in dialogue The book s first section analyzes three important genres of city films that follow in historical sequence each associated with a particular city moving from the city film of the Weimar Republic to the film noir associated with Los Angeles and the image of Paris in the cinema of the French New Wave The second section discusses socio historical themes of urban studies beginning with the relationship of film industries and individual cities continuing with the portrayal of war torn and divided cities and ending with the cinematic expression of utopia and dystopia in urban science fiction The last section negotiates the question of identity and place in a global world moving from the portrayal of ghettos and barrios to the city as a setting for gay and lesbian desire to end with the representation of the global city in transnational cinematic practices The book suggests that modernity links urbanism and cinema It accounts for the significant changes that city film has undergone through processes of globalization during which the city has developed from an icon in national cinema to a privileged site for transnational cinematic practices It is a key text for students and researchers of film studies urban studies and cultural studies

Profoundly Disturbing Joe Bob Briggs, 2003

What the critics are saying Beyond the bounds of depravity London Evening Standard Despicable ugly and obscene a degrading senseless misuse of film and time The Los Angeles Times People are right to be shocked The New Yorker From the murky depths can come the most extraordinary things Profoundly Disturbing examines the underground cult movies that have unexpectedly and unintentionally revolutionized the way that all movies would be made Called exploitation films because they often exploit our most primal fears and desires these overlooked movies pioneered new cinematographic techniques subversive narrative structuring and guerrilla marketing strategies that would eventually trickle up into mainstream cinema In this book Joe Bob Briggs uncovers the most seminal cult movies of the twentieth century and reveals the fascinating untold stories behind their making Briggs is best known as the cowboy hat wearing Texas drawling host of Joe Bob s Drive in Theater and Monstervision which ran for fourteen years on cable TV His goofy disarming take offers a refreshingly different perspective on movies and film making He will make you laugh out loud but then surprise you with some truly insightful analysis And with more than three decades of immersion in the cult movie business Briggs has a wealth of behind the scenes knowledge about the people who starred in and made these movies There is no one better qualified or more engaging to write about this subject All the subgenres in cult cinema are covered with essays centering around twenty movies including Triumph of the Will 1938 Mudhoney 1965 Night of the Living

Dead 1967 Deep Throat 1973 The Texas Chain Saw Massacre 1974 Drunken Master 1978 and Crash 1996 Accompanying the text are dozens of capsule reviews providing ideas for related films to discover as well as kitschy and fun archival film stills An essential reference and guide to this overlooked side of cinema Profoundly Disturbing should be in the home of every movie fan especially those who think they've seen everything
