Revisiting Rural Places Jonathan Rigg, Peter Vandergeest, 2012 In Revisiting Rural Places scholars return to sites of their earlier research in Southeast Asia to examine how the rapid pace of change in the countryside affected places spaces and people that they originally studied decades ago Each of the 14 core chapters is organized around a change that based on broader trends the authors did not anticipate a new longhouse in Sarawak the urban forests of Java the assertion of an ethnic minority identity in Northern Thailand the re-shaping of class relations and identities in the Philippines and the uncontested sell off of farmland to cacao entrepreneurs in Sulawesi These outcomes pose a challenge to conventional understandings of how the countryside is being re-shaped and to what effect The accounts in this volume map out diverse pathways to poverty or prosperity Families who seemed trapped in poverty decades ago have prospered owing to non farm and educational opportunities Others have unexpectedly been thrust into relative deprivation by industrial agriculture rural industrialization or destructive natural resource extraction The breadth of the material makes this unique and exceptionally rich account of rural change a valuable classroom tool as well as an important source of information for a broad spectrum of institutions and other stakeholders from the World Bank to NGOs and rural activists      The Mining Journal, Railway and Commercial Gazette ,1884      Australasian Insurance & Banking Record ,1888
