Aristotle's Treatise on Poetry Aristotle, 1815 "The" Harmonicon, 1830 Experiencing Music Composition in Grades K-2 Michele Kaschub, Janice P. Smith, 2022-08-23

Experiencing Music Composition in Grades K-2 is designed to help teachers and students create original music through materials and activities that are enticing and accessible. The text offers an innovative approach to composition teaching and learning to promote the development of the compositional capacities of feelingful intention, musical expressivity, and artistic craftsmanship. With instructional materials aligned to real world tasks from the genres of songwriting, choral music composition, and visual media, instrumental music, electronic music, and digital media, and music theater program activities easily fit into existing curricular frames. Students will transition from participation in teacher-facilitated whole class lessons to more independent compositional work using Sketchpages to guide their critical and creative thinking. These unique graphic organizers blend elements of the composer's notebook with doodle space to help students plan compositions, track their thinking through the compositional process, and document their analysis of completed works. They can also be projected in full color from the website for the book.

The Arts in Mind Ruth Katz, Ruth HaCohen, 2003-01-01

A major shift in critical attitudes toward the arts took place in the eighteenth century. The fine arts were now looked upon as a group divorced from the sciences and governed by their own rules. The century abounded with treatises that sought to establish the overriding principles that differentiate art from other walks of life, as well as the principles that differentiate them from each other. This burst of scholarly activity resulted in the incorporation of aesthetics among the classic branches of philosophy, heralding the cognitive turn in epistemology. Among the writings that initiated this turn, none were more important than the British contribution. The Arts in Mind brings together an annotated selection of these key texts. A companion volume to the editors' Tuning the Mind, which analyzed this major shift in world view and its historical context, The Arts in Mind is the first representative sampling of what constitutes an important school of British thought. The texts are neither obscure nor forgotten, although most histories of eighteenth-century thought treat them in a partial or incomplete way. Here they are made available complete or through representative extracts, together with an editor's introduction to each selection providing essential biographical and intellectual background. The treatises included are representative of the changed climate of opinion which entailed new issues such as those of perception, symbolic function, and the role of history and culture in shaping the world. Contents include: Anthony Ashley Cooper, Third Earl of Shaftesbury, Characteristics; Francis Hutcheson, Inquiry Concerning Beauty, Harmony, and Design; Hildebrand Jacob, Of the Sister Arts; An Essay; James Harris, On Music, Painting, and Poetry; Charles Avison, An Essay on Musical Expression; James Beattie, Essay on Poetry and Music as They Affect the Mind; Daniel Webb, Observations on the Correspondence between Poetry and Music; Thomas Twining, On Poetry Considered as an Imitative Art, On the Different Senses of the Word Imitative as Applied to Music by the Ancients and by the Moderns; Adam Smith, Of the Nature of that Imitation which Takes Place in What are Called the
