Carers' Aspirations and Decisions Around Work and Retirement Hilary Arksey, 2005

Rethinking Children's Care Julia Brannen, Peter Moss, 2003 the book successfully presents clear and convincing arguments about the need to re-direct childhood studies and children's care towards an appreciation of children and care by providing a careful and very thorough examination of care theory policy practice and research Network Children's care in the 21st century is increasingly a public issue as well as parents' private concern A limited vision of children as the responsibility of mothers held sway in Britain long after mothers joined the workforce Formal childcare is now growing but in the context of care work continuing to be low qualified and low status A dearth of care looms large as Britain rapidly turns into an overworked society This critically orientated book draws on a range of key empirical studies carried out in a variety of care contexts It examines care from the perspectives of children parents and care workers It also takes an historical perspective The discussion is situated in an analysis of economic social and political change from modernity to late modernity It focuses on four key issues the conceptualisation of care how care translates its public policy the nature of the care relationship how care might be transformed in the future Rethinking Children's Care will be of interest to students of childhood studies the sociology of childhood and child welfare It is also directly relevant to policy makers trainers and researchers as well as practitioners involved in children's care Families in Society Linda McKie, Sarah Cunningham-Burley, Jo Campling, 2005 Acknowledging the increasing diversity and complexity of families this innovative book proposes a new conceptual framework for understanding families and other relationships that both challenges and attempts to reconcile traditional and contemporary approaches Using the notion of boundaries the book shifts thinking from families as entities to families as relationship processes Emphasising the processes that underlie boundary construction and reconstruction suggests that the key to understanding family life is the process of relationship formation The ideas of entity boundary margins and hybridity provide a framework for understanding the diverse and often contradictory ways in which families contribute to society Families in society makes a significant contribution to the academic literature on families and is essential reading for social science students social researchers policy makers and practitioners interested in families and relationships

Theorizing Identities and Social Action Margaret Wetherell, 2009-10-22 This collection brings together leading scholars to explore the doing and making of identities Drawing on the highly innovative ESRC Identities and Social Action Programme the chapters take core social actions such as performing excluding mixing bonding and demonstrate how social practices and identities unfold together Equal Opportunities Review, 2002

Workless Couples and Partners of Benefit Claimants Chris Hasluck, Anne E. Green, 2005 Labour Market Trends, 2005

Older Workers in Europe Anthony Chiva, Jill Manthorpe, 2009 This book brings together an extraordinarily diverse collection of insights from a wide range of experts A broad overview is created by the foreword from Jumbo Klercq This sets the scene for the subsequent chapters which examine more specific approaches and ways of tackling age diversity and ageing in the workplace Older Workers in Europe is ideal for students of gerontology social policy sociology and human resource management It will also be of interest to policy makers and professionals working in the fields of employment and guidance policy economics labour force development and research Book Jacket

Education Studies Derek Kassem, Emmanuel Mufti, John Robinson, 2006-08 This major text for education studies students provides a critical account of key issues in education today The book is an essential text for education studies students It is also of value to students on QTS courses and students and professionals in areas such as sociology childhood studies community studies and education policy publisher's note

Cash and Care Caroline Glendinning, Peter Kemp, 2006 Recent social trends and policy developments have called into question the divide between the provision of income support and social care services This book examines this in light of key trends The book presents new evidence on the links between cash whether from earnings from paid work social security benefits and payments for disabled people and carers and social disadvantage care and disability It presents theoretical perspectives on the need for and provision of care which some commentators have described as a new social risk and offers new insights into traditional forms of risk such as poverty disability access to credit and money management It provides an analysis of childcare and informal support for sick disabled or elderly people in the context of increasing female labour market participation and the introduction of cash allowances to pay for care and posits a new look at both disabled people and older people in their roles as active citizens whose views and experiences should help shape both policy and practice Cash and care is essential reading for students lecturers and researchers in social policy applied social science social work and health and social care
