Power, Legal Education, and Law School Cultures Meera Deo, Mindie Lazarus-Black, Elizabeth Mertz, 2019-10-10

There is a myth that lingers around legal education in many democracies That myth would have us believe that law students are admitted and then succeed based on raw merit and that law schools are neutral settings in which professors also selected and promoted based on merit use their expertise to train those students to become lawyers Based on original empirical research this book investigates this myth from myriad perspectives diverse settings and in different nations revealing that hierarchies of power and cultural norms shape and maintain inequities in legal education Embedded within law school cultures are assumptions that also stymie efforts at reform The book examines hidden pedagogical messages showing how presumptions about theory s relation to practice are refracted through the obfuscating lens of curricula The contributors also tackle questions of class and market as they affect law training Finally this collection examines how structural barriers replicate injustice even within institutions representing themselves as democratic and open revealing common dynamics across cultural and institutional forms The chapters speak to similar issues and to one another about the influence of context images of law and lawyers the political economy of legal education and the agency of students and faculty The

Chiorazzi, 2018-10-24 While the digital revolution has touched every aspect of law librarianship perhaps nowhere has the effect been more profound than in the area of collection development Many of the materials law libraries traditionally collected in print form are now available in electronic format Digital technology has affected the way we select order and process legal materials The World Wide Web has created an explosion of both commercial and private online publishing The cost of electronic publishing has caused many traditional law book publishers to sell their companies rather than invest in the needed technologies to compete in the 21st century Small publishers and book jobbers have been forced to reinvent themselves The amount of legal information available and its costs continue to soar Law Library Collection Development in the Digital Age deals with these and other issues related to law library collection development Chapters range from the theoretical to the practical Inspired by Penny Hazleton s seminal paper How Much of Your Print Collection is Really on Lexis or Westlaw the editors and chapter authors of Law Library Collection Development in the Digital Age endeavor to expand on professor Hazleton s work with examinations of the role of law libraries in strategic planning for distance learning Web mirror sites trust vs antitrust issues access vs ownership issues how law libraries deal with electronic court records dockets and filings the growth of e journals as they relate to legal publishing how the Hein Greenslips and Blackwell North America s Bookservice cover legal materials past present and future roles of specialized book jobbers and more Anyone interested in law librarianship or the information industry will find this book informative and useful Make it a part of your professional collection today The School Journal ,1906 Albany Law Journal ,1876 South African Law Journal ,1895
