Rural Malay Women in Tradition and Transition Heather Strange, 1981 Monograph on social change amongst rural women in Malaysia based on a field study carried out in 1966 1975 and 1979 in one village describes historical background government policy political system legal aspects women s rights at the national level and trends in housing etc at the local level childhood marriage family life polygamy and divorce old age education of women etc and examines economic conditions income generating activities equal opportunity and division of labour Bibliography pp 246 to 258 and glossary Rural

Malay Women in Tradition and Transition Heather Strange, 1981 Women, Islam and Everyday Life Nina Nurmila, 2009-06-10 This book examines Islam and women s everyday life focusing in particular on the highly controversial issue of polygamy It discusses the competing interpretations of the Qur anic verses that are at the heart of Muslim controversies over polygamy with some groups believing that Islam enshrines polygamy as a male right others seeing it as permitted but discouraged in favour of monogamy and other groups arguing that Islam implicitly prohibits polygamy Based on detailed fieldwork conducted in Indonesia it provides an empirically based account of women s lived experiences in polygamous marriages describing the different perceptions of the practice and strategies in dealing with it It also considers the impact of changing public policy in particular Indonesia s 1974 Marriage Law which restricted the practice of polygamy It shows that in fact this law has not resulted in widespread adherence and considers how public policy could be modified to increase its effectiveness in affecting behaviour in everyday life Overall the book argues that polygamy has been a source of injustice towards women and children that this is against Islamic teaching and that a just Islamic law would need to call for the abolition of polygamy Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Malaysia Meredith Weiss, 2014-10-17 The Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Malaysia offers a broad analytical survey of Malaysia It provides a comprehensive survey of significant topics in Malaysian politics economy and society today focussing on issues institutions and trends It is divided into four thematic sections which are all introduced by the editor Domestic politics Economics Social policy and social development International relations and security The volume brings together an international team of experts an interdisciplinary mix of forty contributors from Malaysia and elsewhere including many of the leading specialists on Malaysian affairs The chapters included in the volume form an accessible and fascinating window onto contemporary Malaysia They each introduce a different aspect of the Malaysian polity economy or society offering both historical perspective and a current assessment or investigation Designed for general readers and specialists alike chapters may be read individually each stands on its own or conjointly Up to date interdisciplinary and academically rigorous the Handbook will be of interest to students academics policymakers and others in search of reliable information on Malaysian politics economics and society Islamic Modern Michael G. Peletz, 2018-06-05 How do Islamic courts work What sorts of cultural understandings inform judicial process and litigants strategies How do women s claims fare Do these courts promote social tolerance And how do states use them to consolidate power build nations and shape a modern citizenry These are among the questions addressed in this book which not only enhances our understanding of diversity among and within the world s Muslim communities but also provides ethnographic historical and transnational perspectives on contemporary Islam in the shifting landscape of a strategically important region of the world Focusing on Malaysia which has sustained more rapid development than probably any other Muslim nation Michael Peletz explores the culture political economy and history of Islamic courts He demonstrates that they are centrally involved in the creation and policing of new Malay Muslim identities such as middle class urban dwellers that the state sees as the basis for a national polity that will be highly competitive He also shows how and why Islamic courts are key sites in struggles involving ethnic and religious groups social classes political parties and others with a major stake in defining Islam s role with respect to the maintenance of sovereignty and the achievement of modernity and civil society in an age of globalization Peletz deepens our knowledge of Islamic political development in a country very much concerned with forging an Islamic modernity viewed by its leaders as a viable alternative to Western style modernization Kelantan Malay and Traditional Chinese Perspectives on Middle-aged Women

The Rise of Asia Frank B. Tipton,1998-05-01 For many years Japan was seen as the peculiar exception in Asia a highly dynamic economy isolated in an otherwise moribund continent With the rise of the Southeast Asian and Chinese economies however it has now become clear that Asia as a whole is experiencing an extraordinary revolution which will result within a very few years in living standards for some countries being on a par with those in the West The results of this transformation can only be guessed at but The Rise of Asia adds a far greater sophistication to our understanding of how this process came about treating the key areas of Asian life economics society and politics as an integrated whole and avoiding the trap of most commentators who see the phenomenon as an exclusively postwar economic issue Balancing the uniquely Asian aspects with global developmental factors Dr Tipton creates a convincing picture of how this amazing change has occurred The Role and Status of Malay Women in Malaysia Rohana Raja Mamat (Raja.),1991 Women In The Cities Of Asia James T

Barbara N. Ramusack, Sharon L. Sievers, 1999 Barbara N Ramusack surveys the prescriptive roles and lived experiences of women from the period of the early states to the 1990s Women and Kinship Leela Dube, 1997 This work sets out to compare the situation of women in South and South East Asia and argues that kinship systems provide an important context in which gender relations are located It looks at three types of kinship system found in their various forms in the two regions of Asia patrilineal in South Asia and bilateral in South East Asia with a presence of matriliney in both The treatment of kinship departs from what has been found with gender permeating the examination of chosen themes The results obtained suggest that South East Asian women s degree of autonomy in economic and social life contrasts with the situation in South Asia which is characterized by strong patriliney and women s lack of rights Studies in Third World Societies , 1994
