Anders Sandberg,Adrina Bardekjian,Sadia Butt,2014-07-25 Urban forests trees and greenspace are critical in contemporary planning and development of the city Their study is not only a question of the growth and conservation of green spaces but also has social cultural and psychological dimensions This book brings a perspective of political ecology to the complexities of urban trees and forests through three themes human agency in urban forests and greenspace arboreal and greenspace agency in the urban landscape and actions and interventions in the urban forest Contributors include leading authorities from North America and Europe from a range of disciplines including forestry ecology geography landscape design municipal planning environmental policy and environmental history PC World ,1990 Software and CD-ROM Reviews on File ,2003 State of the World's Forests 2011 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2011 Published biennially this title offers a global view of major developments affecting forests It places more emphasis on the demand side What will be the impact on forests of future increases in global population economic development and globalization State of the World s Forests published biennially provides a global view of major developments affecting forests The theme for the 2009 edition is Society forests and forestry adapting for the future The 2007 issue reviewed Progress towards sustainable forest management with an emphasis on the supply side in particular forest resources State of the World s Forests 2009 places more emphasis on the demand side What will be the impact on forests of future increases in global population economic development and globalization Is the explosion in global trade having positive or negative effects on the world s forests Will the forest sector continue to have a major role in providing livelihoods for rural communities This eighth edition looks forward Part One summarizes the outlook for forests and forestry in each region of the world FAO periodically carries out regional forest sector outlook studies in collaboration with countries and organizations in each region The results of studies for all regions are summarized and presented here for the first time in a single publication A main pattern that emerges is a strong correlation between economic development and the state of forests Countries that are undergoing rapid economic growth tend to struggle with immense pressures on their forests In contrast regions that have already achieved a high level of economic development are usually able to stabilize or increase their forest area However the factors affecting forests are numerous and complex making it difficult to draw simple conclusions or to make reliable projections Part Two considers how forestry will have to adapt for the future It begins with a global outlook for wood products demand to 2030 noting changing patterns in production consumption and trade Next a chapter on environmental services of forests probes the various market and non market mechanisms evolving to help forests and trees fulfill their environmental service functions of land water and biodiversity protection carbon storage and others A look at progress in institutional adaptation notes that many forestry institutions are having difficulty in adapting to rapid changes in communications globalisation and society s expectations Those institutions that are willing and able to adapt are more likely to be successful in the future Finally Part Two examines developments in science and technology which will continue to have an enormous impact on the future of forests and forestry Imagine a world in which trees are a major source of fuel for cars replacing oil Only a few years ago this seemed like fantasy but today the possibility must be seriously considered
