Box Office ,1962 The British Film Industry in 25 Careers Geoffrey Macnab,2021-01-28 The British Film Industry in 25 Careers tells the history of the British film industry from an unusual perspective that of various mavericks visionaries and outsiders who often against considerable odds have become successful producers distributors writers directors editors props masters publicists special effects technicians talent scouts stars and sometimes even moguls Some such as Richard Attenborough and David Puttnam are well known names Others such as the screenwriter and editor Alma Reville also known as Mrs Alfred Hitchcock Constance Smith the lost star of British cinema or the producer Betty Box and her director sister Muriel are far less well known What they all have in common though is that they found their own pathways into the British film business overcoming barriers of nationality race class and gender to do so Counterpointing the essays on historical figures are interviews with contemporaries including the director Amma Asante the writer and filmmaker Julian Fellowes artist and director Isaac Julien novelist and screenwriter Hanif Kureishi and media entrepreneur Efe Cakarel founder of the online film platform MUBI who've come into today's industry adjusting to an era in which production and releasing models are changing and in which films are distributed digitally as well as theatrically The Environmental Documentary John A. Duvall,2017-05-18 The Environmental Documentary provides the first extensive coverage of the most important environmental films of the decade including their approach to their topics and their impacts on public opinion and political debate While documentaries with themes of environmental activism date back at least to Pare Lorenz's films of the 1930's no previous decade has produced the number and quality of films that engage environmental issues from an activist viewpoint The convergence of high profile issues like climate change fossil fuel depletion animal abuse and corporate malfeasance has combined with the miniaturization of high quality recording equipment and the expansion of documentary programming to produce an unprecedented number of important and influential documentary productions The text examines the processes of production and distribution that have produced this explosion in documentaries The films range from a high profile Hollywood production with theatrical distribution like An Inconvenient Truth to shorter independently produced films like The End of Suburbia that have reached a small audience of activists through video distribution interviews with many of the filmmakers and word of mouth Eco-Trauma Cinema Anil Narine,2014-09-19 Film has taken a powerful position alongside the global environmental movement from didactic documentaries to the fantasy pleasures of commercial franchises This book investigates in particular film's complex role in representing ecological traumas Eco trauma cinema represents the harm we as humans inflict upon our natural surroundings or the injuries we sustain from nature in its unforgiving iterations The term encompasses both circumstances because these seemingly distinct instances of ecological harm are often related and even symbiotic the traumas we perpetuate in an ecosystem through pollution and unsustainable resource management inevitably return to harm us Contributors to this volume engage with eco trauma cinema in its three general forms accounts of people who are traumatized by the natural world narratives that represent people or social processes which traumatize the environment or its species and stories that depict the aftermath of ecological catastrophe The films they examine represent a central challenge of our age to overcome our disavowal of environmental crises to reflect on the unsavoury forces reshaping the planet s ecosystems and to restructure the mechanisms responsible for the state of the earth Managerial
