Such is also the case with FinTechs. This paper explores the FinTech mergers and acquisitions as they do not possess the common features of ordinary corporate transactions. This paper will address the specifics of FinTech deals and the particular issues which may arise both for the buyers and sellers. The growth and success of high importance for FinTechs globally during 2018 with developed and unicorn FinTechs rising, building international partnerships and making their own acquisitions to drive global expansion activities. Mergers and acquisitions specifics and structures include questions of buying and selling these types of businesses as well as the more practical questions of due diligence and compliance check-ups of this so highly regulated requiring and integrating FinTech business requires a understanding of the target company's estimate proposition at the initial level as well as possibly securing regulatory approval for the transaction. This has become the mission goal of the financial institutions in the digital age. In fact, it is compulsory for the businesses to innovate themselves in order to boost their competitiveness. In that regard, FinTech M&A has become sound business
