Fifty years after the beginning of the debate about the general crisis of the seventeenth century and thirty years after Theodore K Rabb's reformulation of it as the European struggle for stability this volume returns to the fundamental questions raised by the long running discussion What continent wide patterns of change can be discerned in European history across the centuries from the Renaissance to the French Revolution What were the causes of the revolts that rocked so many countries between 1640 and 1660 Did fundamental changes occur in the relationship between politics and religion Politics and military technology Politics and the structures of intellectual authority

Europe in Crisis, 1598-1648 Geoffrey Parker, 1979 In the new edition of this classic book Geoffrey Parker draws on material from all over Europe to provide an authoritative and exciting account of the eventful first half of the seventeenth century The continent enjoyed scarcely a year of peace during this period Instead revolution civil war and complex international conflicts brought many states to the edge of collapse in the 1640s Professor Parker examines three crucial conflicts the desperate struggle of the Habsburgs with France and the Dutch Republic the rivalry of Sweden Denmark Russia and Poland for control of the Baltic and the confrontation between the Austrian Habsburgs and their subjects which escalated into the Thirty Years War He also illuminates the leading social economic and intellectual developments of the period The new edition has been revised throughout and includes an updated bibliography
