Seventy Years Of Birdwatching:

Seventy Years of Birdwatching H.G Alexander, 2010-10-30 This is a book about birdwatching birdwatchers and above all birds It is in some measure also a history of the development of modern ornithology in Britain although the author's birdwatching extended over parts of three continents Europe India and North America Seventy Years of Birdwatching is not truly an autobiography there is too little about the author in it though the personality of this exceptional shy and gentle man comes through H G Alexander began birdwatching in earnest in 1898 and has never stopped He has met or corresponded with most of the leading ornithologists of this century his first article in British Birds appeared in 1909 and it may surprise many to discover how much of practical ornithology that is deliberated today was debated and practised so many years ago During more than seventy years the author has witnessed important changes in resident and migrant bird populations in Britain Dungeness for example was almost as uninhabited as the moon when he first knew it and Kentish Plovers bred there by the score but Carrion Crows were a rarity Over the years he saw the gradual decline of the Red backed Shrike Corncrake and Wryneck but he was instrumental in bringing one bird to Britain the hitherto undiscovered Willow Tit which he with others helped to identify Fifty years ago H G Alexander had already covered scores of six inch Ordnance Survey maps with his mapping records and these together with his notebooks and correspondence with contemporaries supply an absorbing glimpse of a birdwatching era that was fascinatingly like and yet unlike our own Perhaps this is why today's birdwatcher has only to turn the pages to be enthralled

A History of

Birdwatching in 100 Objects David Callahan, 2014-08-14 This book looks at 100 items that have profoundly shaped how people watched, studied and engaged with the avian world. Each item contains around 500 words on a double page spread and includes an illustration of the object in question. The book includes the objects listed below as well as many more. The range of items is international and cross cultural. Subjects include: An Egyptian field guide, early tomb decorations of birds identifiable as species, Ornithologiae libri tres the first British bird guide, a 1676 publication that attempted to itemise all British birds known at the time, The Dodo specimen held at the Horniman museum, Systema Naturae by Carl Linnaeus the first ever system of scientific names in 1758 and still the international standard today, The shotgun, The book, The Natural History and Antiquities of Selborne by Gilbert White 1789, HMS Beagle the ship on which Darwin made his ground breaking discoveries, Aluminium bird rings used to record movement and longevity of individuals and species. Along with many more modern innovations including walkie talkies, pagers, radio tags and apps.

Celebrating 100 Years of Female Fellowship of the Geological Society: Discovering Forgotten Histories C.V. Burek, B.M. Higgs, 2021-03-18 The Geological Society of London was founded in 1807. At the time membership was restricted to men, many of whom became well known names in the history of the geological sciences. On the 21 May 1919 the first female Fellows were elected to the Society 112 years after its formation. This Special Publication celebrates the centenary of that important event. In doing so it presents the often untold stories of pioneering women geoscientists from across the world who navigated male dominated academia and learned societies, experienced the harsh realities of Siberian field exploration or responded to the strategic necessity of the petroleum girls in early American oil exploration and production. It uncovers important female role models in the history of science and investigates why not all of these women received due recognition from their contemporaries and peers. The work has identified a number of common issues that sometimes led to original work and personal achievements being lost or unacknowledged and as a consequence to histories being unwritten.

A Dictionary of Birds Bruce Campbell, Elizabeth Lack, 2013-06-27 A Dictionary of Birds enlists contributions from over 280 ornithologists and other specialists from around the world. Major authoritative articles cover the field of modern ornithology and related subjects, many of them running to several thousand words. In addition there are articles on all the bird families, almost all of which are illustrated by a representative species. There are also numerous short entries defining special terms, application of names etc. The total gives a text of over 800 000 words supported by more than 500 photographs, drawings and diagrams. The photographs have been selected under the guidance of Eric Hosking to illustrate different activities of birds and Robert Gillmor has assembled a collection of over 200 drawings of birds, almost all of which were specially drawn for the Dictionary. Compiled for the British Ornithologists Union, this new work is in line of succession from Newton's A Dictionary of Birds of 1896 and Landsborough Thomson's A New Dictionary of Birds published in 1964. 2nd impression 1965 and now long out of print. This dictionary/encyclopedia in treatment is destined to be a major reference in any ornithologist's library and its editors and contributors most of whom gave their time and knowledge freely have earned the thanks and acclaim of users for many years to come As Frances James President of the American Ornithologists Union writes in her preface For students it will serve as an entrance to the present status of the field For scientists it will serve as a research tool and a bridge between disciplines Birdwatch Magazine ,1992
