Special relationships Janet Beer, Bridget Bennett, 2018-07-30 This book addresses the special relationship from the perspective of post Second World War British governments It argues that Britain's foreign policy challenges the dominant idea that its power has been waning and that it sees itself as the junior partner to the hegemonic US The book also shows how at moments of international crisis successive British governments have attempted to re play the same foreign policy role within the special relationship It discusses the power of a profoundly antagonistic relationship between Mark Twain and Walter Scott The book demonstrates Stowe's misreading and misrepresentation of the Highland Clearances It explains how Our Nig the work of a Northern free black also provides a working class portrait of New England farm life removed from the frontier that dominates accounts of American agrarian life Telegraphy which transformed transatlantic relations in the middle of the century was used by spiritualists as a metaphor for the ways in which communications from the other world could be understood The story of the Bolton Whitman Fellowship is discussed Beside Sarah Orne Jewett's desk was a small copy of the well known Raeburn portrait of Sir Walter Scott Henry James and George Eliot shared a transatlantic literary network which embodied an easy flow of mutual interest and appreciation between their two milieus In her autobiography Gertrude Stein assigns to her lifelong companion the repeated comment that she has met three geniuses in her life Stein Picasso and Alfred North Whitehead An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence Rediscovering Sarah Grand's 'The Heavenly Twins' Caroline Martin, 2009 The Heavenly Twins written by Sarah Grand was a novel that shocked its late Victorian audience but which still remains largely unheard of today Grand's novel quite polemical in its time addressed ideas of female sexuality and education among other topics Grand herself meant the work to be predominantly didactic always stressing that it is most often what a woman does not know that can most hurt her Throughout the work Grand makes constant references to items of her period some literary some political some even scientific It is these allusions that give the novel an additional richness and depth needless to say readers unfamiliar with the many references may overlook any wit or wisdom Grand has intended to impart with their use Until now no critical edition of The Heavenly Twins has existed The annotations within are not only meant to serve as a reading companion to Grand's work but it may be hoped will lend to a further understanding of the world from which the author is writing from Women's Writing and Mission in the Nineteenth Century Angharad Eyre, 2022-11-30 Until now the missionary plot in Charlotte Brontë's Jane Eyre has been seen as marginal and anomalous Despite women missionaries being ubiquitous in the nineteenth century they appeared to be absent from nineteenth century literature As this book demonstrates though the female missionary character and narrative was in fact present in a range of writings from missionary newsletters and life writing to canonical Victorian literature New Woman fiction and women's college writing Nineteenth century women writers wove the tropes of the female missionary figure and plot into their domestic fiction and the female missionary themes of religious self sacrifice and heroism formed the subjectivity of these writers and their characters Offering an alternative narrative for the development of women writers and early feminism as well as a new reading of Jane Eyre this book adds to the debate about whether religious women in the nineteenth century could actually be radical and feminist Ideala Sarah Grand, 2008 One of the earliest New Woman novels Ideala 1888 tells the story of a woman who after making a bad marriage must decide whether to leave her husband for another man or embrace a feminist philosophy that requires her to sacrifice personal relationships for the good of other women Told in first person by Ideala's friend Lord Dawne the novel details Ideala's journey to understanding herself and her place in nineteenth century society Along the way we see her writing poetry providing charity to the poor falling in love and travelling to China all as means to figure out how to live her life in a meaningful way Author Sarah Grand best known for The Heavenly Twins 1893 published Ideala with her own money after leaving her unhappy marriage and coming to London to establish herself as a professional writer in the early 1880s In Ideala Grand lays out the foundations for the New Woman of the 1890s by showing how one woman processes the legal and economic restrictions women in unhappy marriages faced in the nineteenth century and thinks through how to remedy her own situation This edition includes an introduction that examines the biographical and historical contexts that influenced Grand s writing explanatory notes and an appendix of contemporary reviews of the novel For those who have been reading Ideala on microfiche or in crumbling antique editions Molly Youngkin s new scholarly edition will be a tremendous boon Given the dearth of in print editions of New Woman novels by women Valancourt s Ideala will offer a welcome alternative to those old stand bys Gissing s The Odd Women and Hardy s Jude the Obscure Anna Jones University of Central Florida

Women, Portraiture and the Crisis of Identity in Victorian England Colleen Denney,2009 Women Portraiture and the Crisis of Identity in Victorian England shows the effect of celebrity and scandal on four prominent Victorian women Mary Elizabeth Braddon Lady Dilke Millicent Garrett Fawcett and Sarah Grand Colleen Denney explores how these women used their portraits as tools of persuasion performing a domestic masquerade to secure privacy and acceptance or sites of resistance tearing down male constructions of female propriety and fighting Victorian stereotypes of intellectual women

The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2001 New Woman Writers Lyssa Randolph,Marion Shaw,2007 This is a contextual and interpretative study of fiction and drama by New Woman Writers of the period 1880 to 1914 It considers through consideration of the work of women writers artists and dramatists the diversity of feminist identities and lifestyles women s suffrage and the emergence of women from sexual and domestic dependency

Anti-feminism in Edwardian Literature: Daphne; or, Marriage à la mode Lucy Delap,Ann Heilmann,2006

Anti-feminism in the Victorian Novel Ann Heilmann,2004 The beginnings of the modern idea of feminism are usually traced to the publication of Mary Wollstonecraft s Vindication of the Rights of Women in 1792 Since then women s emancipation has been a constantly debated and topical subject This series entitled Victorian and Edwardian Anti Feminism will present the other side of the debate anti feminism more or less obviously through novels and other writings of the 19th and early 20th centuries Anti Feminism in the Victorian Novel is a collection of five rare novels depicting various aspects of the anti feminist ideology that was making a strong stand against the increasingly widespread movement towards feminism and suffrage in late 19th century Britain the debate The concept of women and the family is represented by Eliza Lynn Linton s The Rebel of the Family 1880 women and politics by Walter Besant s The Revolt of Man 1890 women in medicine by Arabella Kenealy s Dr Janet of Harley Street 1893 women in art by C E Raimond Elizabeth Robins George Mandeville s Husband 1894 and women and sex by Grant Allen The Type Writer Girl 1897 The set should be of interest to scholars of women s studies and 19th century history Shaping an Irish Dream Jeffrey Baggett,2007 Raising the Dust Beth Sutton-Ramspeck,2004 Raising the Dust identifies a heretofore overlooked literary phenomenon that author Beth Sutton

Ramspeck calls literary housekeeping The three writers she examines rejected turn of the century aestheticism and modernism in favor of a literature that is practical even ostensibly mundane designed to set the human household in order To Mary Augusta Ward Sarah Grand and Charlotte Perkins Gilman housekeeping represented public responsibilities making the food supply safe reforming politics and improving the human race itself Raising the Dust places their writing in the context of the late Victorian era in particular the eugenics movement the proliferation of household conveniences the home economics movement and decreased reliance on servants These changes affected relationships between the domestic sphere and the public sphere and hence shaped the portrayal of domesticity in the era s fiction and nonfiction Moreover Ward Grand and Gilman articulated a domestic aesthetic that swept away boundaries Sutton Ramspeck uncovers a new paradigm here literature as engaging the public realm through the devices and perspectives of the domestic Her innovative and ambitious book also connects fixations on cleaning with the discovery of germs the first bacterium discovered was anthrax and knowledge of its properties increased fears of dust analyzes advertising cards for soap and links the mental illness in Gilman s The Yellow Wall Paper to fears during the period of arsenic poisoning from wallpaper

The New Woman in Print and Pictures Marianne Berger Woods, 2009-05-13 Although feminist women have existed throughout history the term New Woman wasn t officially coined until 1894 when British novelists began to address the concept of the New Woman through discussions of female suffrage dress reform women s advances toward more legal rights birth control sexual freedom and women working outside the home This annotated bibliography includes original novels and articles printed from 1894 to 1944 the era most closely associated with the New Woman It includes all period novels with a New Woman protagonist and all period articles with the New Woman as primary subject along with several poems cartoons advertisements and artworks The bibliography also includes critical literature published worldwide from the 1960s to 2008 that examines the primary material included in the first section Because the New Woman was the target of many derisive articles poems and visual works these critical response pieces are included Encyclopedia of the Victorian Era: Dome-Manc ,2004

Feminist Forerunners Ann Heilmann, 2003 In the late nineteenth century the New Woman was an emblem of fashionable modernity or of sexual anarchy depending on the point of view The New Women themselves were keen to point out that they did not exist as a single entity and Feminist Forerunners demonstrates their surprising range and variety but this important reassessment shows they nonetheless truly justify the title of feminist forerunners
