Showing My Color Impolite Arguments On Race And Identity:

Das Verborgene sichtbar machen Roxane Riegler, 2010 Das alltägliche Leben von ethnischen Minderheiten in Österreich ist für viele ein unbekanntes Gebiet. Darüber hinaus werden Minderheiten als soziales und wirtschaftliches Problem gesehen, doch wird das im öffentlichen Diskurs kaum hinterfragt. Am Ende des vergangenen Jahrhunderts gab nur wenige literarische Erzeugnisse, die Minderheiten oder Migrantenerfahrung in den Mittelpunkt stellten und von der Literaturkritik wurden diese Texte nur am Rande wahrgenommen. Diese Studie analysiert fünf Werke von vier AutorInnen unterschiedlicher Herkunft: Milo Dor, Ceija Stojka, Barbara Frischmuth und Vladimir Vertlib, die sich mit eben diesem Thema auseinandersetzen. In der Analyse und Interpretation der Texte wird Fragen von Alterität und Identität, Kultur und Ethik, Ausgrenzung und der Rolle des Staates nachgegangen.

Darwin's Athletes John Milton Hoberman, 1997 Studies our society's fixation on black athletic achievement and argue that this obsession shared by both blacks and whites in the media in corporate America and even by athletes themselves has come to play a disastrous role in African American life and a troubling role in our country's race relations. As for example, the athleticizing of black identity encourages a disdain for academic achievement already too widespread among black males.

Whites Confront Racism Eileen O'Brien, 2001-08-14 This book asserts the distinctive place that whites can take in the fight for racial justice, bringing together interviews with white antiracist activists from across North America. Avoiding the typical white options of being nonracist or feeling guilty, these whites demonstrate the multitude of ways whites can be proactive in combating modern racism. These activists of both genders and all ages have arrived at their antiracist commitments through several different yet typical paths. These whites struggle to transform individuals, institutions, and themselves to varying degrees, incurring risks as well as rewards along the way. Their affiliations with antiracist organizations or lack thereof play a crucial role in the differences among them and their approaches to antiracist work. The whites who are involved with antiracist groups come predominantly from either Anti-Racist Action or the People's Institute for Survival and Beyond, and the contrast between these two groups woven throughout the analysis leads to the conclusion that there are different types of antiracism. Although unity among them may not be possible or even desirable, acceptance of a broader concept of racism by all antiracists is one of the ending suggestions for the future of antiracism.

African Americans in the Media Today: M-Z Sam G. Riley, 2007 The history of African Americans in the news media is a relatively recent story of firsts. Consider Dorothy Gilliam, who in 1961 became the first black woman reporter hired by The Washington Post, or Bob Herbert, who in 1993 became the first black columnist at The New York Times, or even Mark Whitaker, who in 1998 became the first black editor of one of America's three major newsweeklies, Newsweek. These are just a few of the trailblazers who overcame obstacles to rise to the highest echelons of the media world. Prior to the 1960s, however, African Americans working for the predominantly white media were few and far between. After the subsiding of the dramatic civil rights demonstrations that shook most of America out of complacent acceptance of the status quo, the hiring of African American news people slowed for a time before accelerating in the 1970s gaining real speed in the 1980s and 1990s. By the dawning of the new millennium African Americans in the news media had achieved a sort of critical mass. This two volume biographical encyclopedia chronicles the success stories and considerable strides made by over 240 African American media figures from newspapers, magazines, radio, television, and the Internet. The most influential and often groundbreaking reporters, columnists, editors, publishers, broadcasters, and even talk show hosts are all included here. Each in depth biography discusses the individual's achievements and struggles along with more personal and career information. Numerous primary source documents including newspaper and magazine articles, columns, and radio and television transcripts give readers first hand accounts from the newsrooms. Unlike other reference works currently available, this timely encyclopedia emphasizes those African Americans who are currently working in the news media. Among the featured: BL Bob Herbert syndicated columnist The New York Times; BL Richard D. Parsons CEO Time Warner; BL Leonard Pitts syndicated columnist Tribune Media Services; BL Clarence Page syndicated columnist Chicago Tribune; BL Stanley Crouch columnist New York Daily News; BL Derrick Johnson columnist The Boston Globe; BL Ed Bradley correspondent 60 Minutes on CBS; BL Lester Holt anchor and show host MSNBC; BL Charlayne Hunter Gault foreign correspondent NPR; BL Gwen Ifill correspondent and moderator PBS; BL Robert L. Johnson founder of Black Entertainment Television; BL Byron Pitts national correspondent CBS news; BL Alfred Edmond editor in chief Black Enterprise Magazine; BL Mark Whitaker editor Newsweek; BL Linda Johnson Rice publisher Johnson Publishing Company; BL Kevin Blackstone sports columnist The Dallas Morning News; BL Robin Roberts sportscaster anchor ABC and ESPN; BL Oprah Winfrey show host ABC actress producer magazine publisher; BL Michelle Norris host of All Things Considered on NPR. A timeline, comprehensive introduction, numerous photos, and an extensive bibliography of print and electronic sources for further reading are included, making this encyclopedia a valuable reference for teachers and students interested in understanding the impact and significance of African Americans in the news media today.

Light, Bright, and Damned Near White Stephanie R. Bird, 2009-03-20. The election of America's first biracial president brings the question dramatically to the fore. What does it mean to be biracial or tri-racial in the United States today? Anthropologist Stephanie Bird takes us into a world where people are struggling to be heard, recognized, and celebrated for the racial diversity one would think is the epitome of America's melting pot persona. But being biracial or tri-racial brings unique challenges, challenges including prejudice, racism, and from within racial groups, colorism. Yet America is now experiencing a multiracial baby boom with at least three states logging more multiracial baby births than any other race aside from Caucasians. As the Columbia Journalism Review reported, American demographics are no longer black and white. In truth, they are a blended, difficult to define shade of brown. Bird shows us the history of biracial and tri racial people in the United States and in European families and events She presents the personal traumas and victories of those who struggle for recognition and acceptance in light of their racial backgrounds including celebrities such as golf expert Tiger Woods who eventually quit trying to describe himself as Cablanasin a mix including Asian and African American Bird examines current events including the National Mixed Race Student Conference and the push to dub this Generation MIX And she examines how American demographics government and society are changing overall as a result This work includes a guide to tracing your own racial roots Who's who Among African Americans Ashyia N.
