Setting The World:

Setting the World on Fire Laura R. Dejmek, 2014-08-19 Laypersons receiving a divine call to preach in the Roman Catholic Church may feel caught between a rock and a hard place both figuratively and ecclesiastically They may feel constrained between the Rock of Peter and the hard place of resistance to the preaching gift they believe they have and their desire to share it At first glance the Roman Catholic Church with its two millennia of Sacred Tradition seemingly offers little that favors the inclusion of lay preachers In addition many lay preachers may experience the bias of clergy and assembly members who unconsciously presume there is no role for laity to preach within the Roman Catholic Church Preaching does not occur solely within liturgical settings or only via pulpit preachers All Dominicans as members of the Order of Preachers are called to embody the Sacra Praedicatio the Sacred Preaching In fact canon law does permit laity to preach in certain liturgical settings Setting the World on Fire details one Roman Catholic woman's experience of her own call to preach the grace and gifts brought to both the preacher and the assembly as well as her desire to help all Dominicans and indeed all Christians embrace their rightful role as preachers

Setting the Moral Compass Cheshire Calhoun, 2003-12-25 Setting the Moral Compass brings together the largely unpublished work of nineteen women moral philosophers whose powerful and innovative work has contributed to the re setting of the compass of moral philosophy over the past two decades The contributors who include many of the top names in this field tackle several wide ranging projects they develop an ethics for ordinary life and vulnerable persons they examine the question of what we ought to do for each other they highlight the moral significance of inhabiting a shared social world they reveal the complexities of moral negotiations and finally they show us the place of emotion in moral life

Setting the Agenda Maxwell McCombs, 2004-11-12 Setting the Agenda describes the mass media's significant and sometimes controversial role in determining which topics are at the centre of public attention and action Although Walter Lippman captured the essence of the media's powerful influence early in the last century with his phrase the world outside and the pictures in our heads a detailed empirical elaboration of this agenda setting role of the mass media did not begin until the final quarter of the 20th century In this comprehensive book Maxwell McCombs one of the founding fathers of agenda setting tradition of research synthesizes the hundreds of scientific studies carried out on this central role of the mass media in the shaping of public opinion Across the world the mass media strongly influences what the pictures of public affairs in our heads are about The mass media also influences the very details of those pictures In addition to describing this media influence on what we think about and how we think about it Setting the Agenda also discusses the sources of these media agendas the psychological explanation for their impact on the public agenda and the subsequent consequences for attitudes opinions and behaviour This important and perspicacious new book will prove invaluable to students of media communications and politics as well as those interested in the role of mass media in shaping and directing public opinion
