Setting Up Community Health Programmes A Practical Manual For Use In Developing Countries

Tim O'Shaughnessy

Setting Up Community Health Programmes A Practical Manual For Use In Developing Countries:

Setting Up Community Health Programmes Ted Lankester, 2007 Divided into four parts this book covers the basic principles of community based health care starting a programme setting up specific programmes and managing programmes It is designed for both rural and urban locations and contains over 250 diagrams illustrations and tables Setting Up

Community Health Programmes Ted Lankester, 1992 Although material is available on the principles and on certain aspects of community health programmes never before have all the practical details of how to set up and run programmes been published together in one book This huge task has been completed in this comprehensive work for all medical nursing allied health planning and administrative staff and students engaged in community health Published in conjunction with the TEAR Fund and TALC Setting Up Community Health and Development Programmes in Low and Middle Income

Settings Ted Lankester, Nathan J. Grills, 2019 Over half the world's rural population and many in urban slums have minimal access to health services This book describes how to set up new and develop existing community based health care for by and with the community International Encyclopedia of Public Health William C Cockerham, 2016-10-06 International Encyclopedia of Public Health Second Edition Seven Volume Set is an authoritative and comprehensive guide to the major issues challenges methods and approaches of global public health Taking a multidisciplinary approach this new edition combines complementary scientific fields of inquiry linking biomedical research with the social and life sciences to address the three major themes of public health research disease health processes and disciplines This book helps readers solve real world problems in global and local health through a multidisciplinary and comprehensive approach Covering all dimensions of the field from the details of specific diseases to the organization of social insurance agencies the articles included cover the fundamental research areas of health promotion economics and epidemiology as well as specific diseases such as cancer cardiovascular diseases diabetes and reproductive health Additional articles on the history of public health global issues research priorities and health and human rights make this work an indispensable resource for students health researchers and practitioners alike Provides the most comprehensive high level internationally focused reference work available on public health Presents an invaluable resource for both researchers familiar with the field and non experts requiring easy to find relevant global information and a greater understanding of the wider issues Contains interdisciplinary coverage across all aspects of public health Incorporates biomedical and health social science issues and perspectives Includes an international focus with contributions from global domain experts providing a complete picture of public health issues When

Healthcare Hurts Greg Seager, 2012 Empowerment or Disempowerment There are three paths to take when designing and implementing global health initiatives One leads to the community one leads to the health system and the last leads to the community through the local health system Working at the community level is more complex and it should be considered only by programs that are experienced in doing so or in partnership with programs that have that experience Unfortunately this is where most short term programs choose to partner and this leads to many challenges Working in and through local health systems is the best way to eliminate most of these challenges Working at the health system and hospital level eliminates most of the patient safety issues associated with short term health initiatives It also pairs programs that understand each other together Thinking about community level global health initiatives is often completely foreign to most western medical programs We term these community based programs horizontal because they arise from the community for the community Hospital systems are programs that are vertical in nature and western medical thinking is typically very vertical We will look at the idea of both vertical and horizontal models in this chapter so that you can clearly identify the best fit for your global health initiatives It is essential that we realize that using strictly vertical approaches to healthcare delivery in resource poor communities can be more harmful than helpful This is especially true if those projects are separated from local healthcare professionals and their services In many cultures everything western is better sought after and to be imitated while old ways of tradition and caring should be left behind and abandoned Alma Ata which we will discuss later in this chapter gave rise to the idea of horizontal community based programs That thinking has matured into sustainable models of healthcare and disease prevention If your program plans to function outside hospitals in the community then you need to invest time in learning how to design and implement horizontal community based programs If we do not learn respect and implement these methods we may be destined to leave a legacy of disempowerment and dependence on methods of healthcare that have proven ineffective in resource poor communities The opposite side to this is that if we do learn these methods there is no limit to the effect the enormous volume of short term volunteer teams could have on child mortality maternal mortality HIV AIDS malaria and other communicable diseases As healthcare providers trained in developed countries we need to let go of the idea that our methods of healthcare are the only methods There are methods short term teams can use to serve and support such projects we review some of these methods in this chapter

Setting Up Community Health Programmes (Revised Indian Edition):A Practical Manual for Use in Developing Countries Ted Lankester,2000-02 This practical manual covers all aspects of setting up and running community health programmes Particular emphasis is given to the need for consultation with the local community
