Setting Boundaries The Anthropology Of Spatial And Social Organization:

Setting Boundaries Deborah Pellow, 1996-01-19 Proxemic studies concentrate on the structure and organization of space its design and use allocation and the relations encoded in it as aspects of cultural communication Space is perceived through the senses and since cultures use the senses differently they create boundaries differently Pellow in her edited collection of boundary studies focuses on the social conception and production of boundedness The essays by 10 scholars eight of them anthropologists explore the nature of boundaries in terms of change space and place society and culture politics class urbanization housing and secular and spiritual life

Managing Boundaries in Organizations N. Paulsen, T. Hernes, 2003-05-09 Drawing together an international group of scholars this book provides fresh and provocative perspectives on boundaries in organizations The emergence management and transformation of organizational boundaries is intrinsic to modern organization and poses one of the most persistent and potentially rewarding challenges to researchers and managers alike The book offers the latest insights into the nature of boundaries how they may be interpreted and studied as well as implications for managing The chapters include theoretical perspectives and cases from Europe Canada the USA Australia the Middle East and Africa

Space and Spatial Analysis in Archaeology University of Calgary. Archaeological Association. Conference, Elizabeth C. Robertson, 2006 The archaeology of space and place is examined in this selection of papers from the 34th annual Chacmool Archaeological Conference

The Spatial Factor In African History Allen M. Howard, Richard Matthew Shain, 2005 In this collection authors apply spatial analysis to case studies of social economic and political dynamics in West Central and East Africa during the nineteenth and twentieth century Also included is a lengthy essay re interpreting tropical Africa 1800 1930 using spatial theory

Local Autonomy as a Human Right Joshua B. Forrest, 2021-08-27 Local Autonomy as a Human Right contends that local communities struggle to preserve their territorial autonomy over time despite changes to the broader political and geographic contexts within which they are embedded Forrest argues that this both reflects and is evidence of a worldwide embrace of local control as a key political and social value indeed of such importance that it should be embraced and codified as a human right This study weaves together evidence grounded in a variety of disciplines history geography comparative politics sociology public policy anthropology international jurisprudence rural studies urban studies to make clear that a presumed inherent moral right to local self determination has been manifested in many different historical and social contexts This book constructs a compelling argument favoring a human right to local autonomy It identifies practical factors that help to account for the relative success of communities that are able to assert local control over time Here particular attention is paid to whether localities are able to generate policy and organizational capacity Forrest suggests that a focus on local policy and organizational capacity can help to explain why some communities attempting to assert greater local control are more successful than others Local Autonomy as a Human Right contributes to scholarly debates regarding the varied impacts of globalization with the place based perspective and moral emphasis on territorial centered rights put forth herein offering a necessary counter narrative to the often presumed predominance of global forces      Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion.v.10 Joanne Marie Greer,David O. Moberg,2001-04-01 Various articles are presented covering psychological sociological and cross cultural topics or relevance to religious spiritual researchers and academics      Physical and Symbolic Borders and Boundaries and How They Unfold in Space Basak Tanulku,Simone Pekelsma,2024-03-05 This book critically examines how borders and boundaries physical and symbolic unfold in different geographies and spaces It aims to understand why they exist and how they are constructed deconstructed and reconstructed The book explores why certain borders boundaries persist while others are removed and new ones are erected It does not focus on one form of border boundary or geographic location It shifts its attention to different geographies borders and boundaries It also focuses on intersections between them and how they complete each other The book provides case studies from the past and present allowing readers to connect subjects periods and geographies The chapters address classical subjects such as nation states and tackle novel questions such as ownership against access that is of urban infrastructures COVID 19 and lockdowns and the divides within digital worlds The book benefits from visual essays that complement the theoretical and empirical chapters showing the complexity of the phenomenon in a simple and effective way The book will be of interest to academics researchers and students working in the fields of urban and rural studies urban sociology cities and communities urban and regional planning urban anthropology political sciences and migration studies human geography cultural geography urban anthropology and visual arts      Landlords and Lodgers Deborah Pellow,2008-07 Landlords and Lodgers analyzes the results of a long term study of a Ghanaian zongo or stranger quarter a place of refuge for Hausa migrants from northern Nigeria who have relocated to the city of Accra Deborah Pellow explores the relationships among community members both in terms of the built structures rooms doors communal structures and hallways and of the social networks institutions and routine activities that define this unique urban neighborhood This volume will be useful to students and scholars of the relationships between architecture migration and social change This richly observed and lovingly constructed portrait of a distinctive community will be of interest to spatially informed scholars of religion immigration minority communities and gender Gender Place and Culture This theoretically informed well researched and closely written book should be quite useful A fine case study of urban sense of place in a unique yet in some ways emblematic West African neighborhood Gareth Myers Professional Geographer      Grenzen in Ostmitteleuropa im 19. und 20. Jahrhundert Hans Lemberg,2000      Transactions of the Historical Society of Ghana Historical Society of Ghana,2000      Traditional Dwellings and Settlements Working Paper Series ,2012      Integrating the Diversity of Twenty-first-century Anthropology ,2006      Living on the Margins Peter J. Hammer,2009      Transgressing Borders Suzan Ilcan,Lynne Phillips,1998-10-23 Comprises 13 papers which explore the concept of boundaries in relation to the family gender and culture Questions the value or legitimacy of boundaries and shows how by transgressing these borders the conventional codes that govern social relations are challenged Comprises four sections covering the role of the state in shaping family forms conceptions of women s space and time in household organization the role of colonialism in defining household and kin relations and the impact of work and changing economies on the shaping of households Canadian Journal of Urban Research ,1996 Research in the Social Scientific Study of Religion ,1999

Environment and Planning ,2006 Space-- Archaeology's Final Frontier? Roderick B. Salisbury,Dustin Keeler,2007

This book discusses the cultural social and archaeological aspects of space and the impact of spatial concepts in practical archaeological case studies It summarizes recent developments and looks to the future exploring some of the cutting edge ideas in spatial method and theory The past decade has seen significant advances in the tools available for spatial analysis in archaeology and theory and method regarding the spatial character of archaeology must keep pace with these advances Geomorphological and geochemical techniques geographic information systems remotely sensed data virtual reality and electronic survey technology provide new opportunities but also require new ideas This book gives us insight into the ways that people have used space to subsist to recreate their culture in their homelands TM or in new areas or impose their culture on others Contributors address the way archaeological notions of space and deep time can add to society TM s understanding of landscape social relationships past environment and cultural heritage The contributions from Europe and North America demonstrate intercontinental connections and explore ways of using dynamic models of spatial patterning to assess human activity within natural and cultural landscapes Culture, Communication and Conflict McClure,2000-08

In Search of Boundaries Joseph M. Chan,Bryce T. McIntyre,2002 This study analyses the forces processes and consequences of the formation of cultural boundaries in the age of global communication and illuminates how communication nation states and cultural identities interact within these boundaries
