Boys and Girls Learn Differently! Michael Gurian, 2002-02-28 At last we have the scientific evidence that documents the many biological gender differences that influence learning For instance girls talk sooner develop better vocabularies read better and have better fine motor skills Boys on the other hand have better auditory memory are better at three dimensional reasoning are more prone to explore and achieve greater abstract design ability after puberty In this profoundly significant book author Michael Gurian synthesizes the current knowledge and clearly demonstrates how this distinction in hard wiring and socialized gender differences affects how boys and girls learn Gurian presents a new way to educate our children based on brain science neurological development and chemical and hormonal disparities The innovations presented in this book were applied in the classroom and proven successful with dramatic improvements in test scores during a two year study that Gurian and his colleagues conducted in six Missouri school districts

Childhood Sexuality and AIDS Education Deevia Bhana, 2015-08-27 Primary school children are frequently shielded from education on sexuality and sexually transmitted diseases in an effort to protect their innocence In countries like South Africa where AIDS is particularly widespread it is especially important to address prevention with younger boys and girls as active social agents with the capacity to engage with AIDS as gendered and sexual beings This volume addresses the question of children s understanding of AIDS not simply in terms of their dependence but as active participants in the interpretation of their social worlds The volume draws on an interview and ethnographic based study of young children in two socially diverse South African primary schools as well as interviews conducted with teachers and mothers of young children It shows how adults

sustain the production of childhood sexual innocence and the importance of scaling up programs in AIDS intervention gender and sexuality It makes significant contributions to the global debate around childhood sexualities gender and AIDS education

Teach Me! Murray Burton Levin,1998 Egleston Community High School in Jamaica Plain an impoverished and broken down Boston suburb populated mainly by Latinos and African Americans was where Murray Levin a retired Boston University political scientist had gone to work trying as he puts it to teach and feel useful Levin set out to teach social sciences what he achieved was not only an awakened desire for knowledge among kids who had been routinely discouraged in that pursuit but an insight into a world view derived from their everyday alienation      Learning from Girls Anne M.
