Widener Library Shelflist: Geography and anthropology Harvard University. Library, 1979 Geography and Anthropology Harvard University. Library, 1979 Arts & Humanities Citation Index, 2002 The Reference Catalogue of Current Literature, Paperbacks in Print, 1979 Encyclopedia of Human Evolution and Prehistory Eric Delson, 2000 Encyclopedia of Human Evolution and Prehistory Eric Delson, Ian Tattersall, John Van Couvering, Alison S. Brooks, 2004-11-23 Praise for the first edition The most up to date and wide ranging encyclopedia work on human evolution available American Reference Books Annual For student researcher and teacher the most complete source of basic information on the subject Nature A comprehensive and authoritative source filling a unique niche essential to academic libraries important for large public libraries Booklist RBB Human Evolution Paul F. Kisak, 2016-04-17 Human evolution is the evolutionary process that led to the emergence of anatomically modern humans The topic typically focuses on the evolutionary history of the primates in particular the genus Homo and the emergence of Homo sapiens as a distinct species of the hominids or great apes rather than studying the earlier history that led to the primates The study of human evolution involves many scientific disciplines including physical anthropology primatology archaeology paleontology neurobiology ethology linguistics evolutionary psychology embryology and genetics Genetic studies show that primates diverged from other mammals about 85 million years ago in the Late Cretaceous period and the earliest fossils appear in the Paleocene around 55 million years ago Within the Hominoidea apes superfamily the Hominidae family diverged from the Hylobatidae gibbon family some 15-20 million years ago African great apes subfamily Homininae diverged from orangutans Ponginae about 14 million years ago the Hominini tribe humans Australopithecines and other extinct biped genera and chimpanzees parted from the Gorillini tribe gorillas about 8 million years ago and in turn the subtribes Hominina humans and biped ancestors and Panina chimps separated about 7.5 million years ago The basic adaptation of the hominin line is bipedalism The earliest bipedal hominin is considered to be either Sahelanthropus or Orrorin alternatively either Sahelanthropus or Orrorin may instead be the last shared ancestor between chimps and humans Ardipithecus a full biped arose somewhat later and the early bipeds eventually evolved into the australopithecines and later into the genus Homo The earliest documented representative of the genus Homo is Homo habilis which evolved around 2.8 million years ago and is arguably the earliest species for which there is positive evidence of the use of stone tools The brains of these early hominins were about the same size as that of a chimpanzee although it has been suggested that this was the time in which the human SRGAP2 gene doubled producing a more rapid wiring of the frontal cortex During the next million years a process of rapid encephalization occurred and with the arrival of Homo erectus and Homo ergaster in the fossil record cranial capacity had doubled to 850 cm³ Such an increase in human brain size is equivalent to each generation having 125 000 more neurons than their parents It is believed that Homo erectus and Homo ergaster were the first to use fire and complex tools and were the first of the hominin line to leave Africa

spreading throughout Africa Asia and Europe between 1.3 to 1.8 million years ago According to the recent African origin of modern humans theory modern humans evolved in Africa possibly from Homo heidelbergensis Homo rhodesiensis or Homo antecessor and migrated out of the continent some 50 000 to 100 000 years ago gradually replacing local populations of Homo erectus Denisova hominins Homo floresiensis and Homo neanderthalensis Archaic Homo sapiens the forerunner of anatomically modern humans evolved in the Middle Paleolithic between 400 000 and 250 000 years ago This book discusses the latest comprehensive information about human evolution and is designed to be a reference and provide an overview of the topic and give the reader a structured knowledge to familiarize yourself with the topic at the most affordable price possible The accuracy and knowledge is of an international viewpoint as the edited articles represent the inputs of many knowledgeable individuals and some of the most current knowledge on the topic based on the date of publication

Human Evolution and Prehistory - EBook Robert Wall, 1753 Human Evolution and Prehistory William A. Haviland, 2009

Conversations in Human Evolution, 2020 The Artificial Ape Timothy Taylor, 2025-10-16 A breakthrough theory that tools and technology are the real drivers of human evolution Although humans are one of the great apes along with chimpanzees gorillas and orangutans we are remarkably different from them Unlike our cousins who subsist on raw food spend their days and nights outdoors and wear a thick coat of hair humans are entirely dependent on artificial things such as clothing shelter and the use of tools and would die in nature without them Yet despite our status as the weakest ape we are the masters of this planet Given these inherent deficits how did humans come out on top In this fascinating new account of our origins leading archaeologist Timothy Taylor proposes a new way of thinking about human evolution through our relationship with objects Drawing on the latest fossil evidence Taylor argues that at each step of our species development humans made choices that caused us to assume greater control of our evolution Our appropriation of objects allowed us to walk upright lose our body hair and grow significantly larger brains As we push the frontiers of scientific technology creating prosthetics intelligent implants and artificially modified genes we continue a process that started in the prehistoric past when we first began to extend our powers through objects Weaving together lively discussions of major discoveries of human skeletons and artifacts with a reexamination of Darwin's theory of evolution Taylor takes us on an exciting and challenging journey that begins to answer the fundamental question about our existence what makes humans unique and what does that mean for our future
