Shades of Loneliness Richard Stivers, 2004-02-09 To varying degrees loneliness has us all in its grip In this incisive and controversial book Richard Stivers rejects the recent emphasis on genetic explanations of psychological problems arguing that the very organization of technological societies is behind the pervasive experience of loneliness The extreme rationality that governs our institutions and organizations results in abstract and impersonal relationships in much of daily life Moreover as common meaning is gradually eroded our connections to others become vague and tenuous Our ensuing fear and loneliness however can be masked by an outgoing extroverted personality In its extreme form loneliness assumes pathological dimensions in neurosis and schizophrenia Stivers maintains that even here the causes remain social The various forms of neuroses and psychoses follow the key contradictions of a technological society For instance narcissism and depression reflect the tension between power and meaninglessness that characterizes modern societies Stivers demonstrates that there is a continuum from the normal technological personality through the various neuroses to full blown schizophrenia He argues that all forms of loneliness emanate from the same cause they likewise share a common dynamic despite their differences Loneliness in its many manifestations seems to be the price we must pay for living in the modern world Yet nurturing family friend and community ties can mitigate its culturally and psychologically disorganizing power This book is a clarion call for a renewal of moral awareness and custom to combat the fragmentation and depersonalization of our technological civilization

A Biography of Loneliness Fay Bound Alberti, 2019-09-12 A compassionate wide ranging study Terry Eagleton The Guardian Despite 21st century fears of a modern epidemic of loneliness its history has been sorely neglected A Biography of Loneliness is the first history of its kind to be published in English offering a radically new interpretation of loneliness as an emotional language and experience Using letters and diaries philosophical tracts political discussions and medical literature from the eighteenth century to the present historian of the emotions Fay Bound Alberti argues that loneliness is not an ahistorical universal phenomenon It is in fact a modern emotion before 1800 its language did not exist As Alberti shows the birth of loneliness is linked to the development of modernity the all encompassing ideology of the individual that has emerged in the mind and physical sciences in economic structures in philosophy and politics While it has a biography of its own loneliness impacts on people differently according to their gender ethnicity religion outlook and socio economic position It is Alberti argues not a single state but an emotion cluster composed of a wide variety of responses that include fear anger resentment and sorrow In spite of this loneliness is not always negative And it is physical as well as psychological loneliness is a product of the body as much as the mind Looking at informative case studies such as Sylvia Plath Queen Victoria and Virginia Woolf A Biography of Loneliness charts the emergence of loneliness as a modern emotional state From social media addiction to widowhood from homelessness to the oldest old from mall hauls to massages loneliness appears in all aspects of 21st century life Yet we cannot address its meanings let alone formulate a cure without attention to its complex protean history      Technology, Society and Sustainability Lech W. Zacher, 2017-03-02 This collection is a multidisciplinary and multicultural contribution to the current sustainability discourse It is focused on two main dimensions of our world complexity and diversity Desirable and urgent transition of socio technological systems toward a sustainability trajectory of development requires a better understanding of technological trends and social transformations General advancement of technology does not produce identical changes in various societies differentiated economically and culturally Moreover the abilities to approach sustainable development change over time and space As a result there is a constant need for continuing research analyses and discussions concerning changing contexts and adequacy of strategies and policies Authors from twelve countries and of different academic and cultural settings present their insights analyses and recommendations The collection is focused both on contexts and on activities leading to sustainable trajectories in various domains of economy and social life Continuing research and discussion is needed to better understand these challenges and to prepare the appropriate strategies and solutions Development of socio technological systems is nowadays very complex moreover the world we live in is extremely diverse Therefore sustainability discourse must be ongoing introducing new ideas concepts theories evidence and experience by various parties academics professionals and practitioners      A Vision for the Aging Church James M. Houston, Michael Parker, 2011-10-10 James M Houston and Michael Parker believe now is the time for the church to offer ministry to its increasing numbers of seniors and to benefit from ministry they can offer They issue an urgent call to reconceive the place and part of the elderly in the local congregation showing that seniors aren't the problem they are the solution      New Visualities, New Technologies J. Macgregor Wise, 2016-05-13 Back in the 1980s Jean Baudrillard wrote that public space was collapsing due to a double obscenity The most intimate operation of your life becomes the potential grazing ground of the media The entire universe also unfolds unnecessarily on your home screen He termed this the ecstasy of communication But today your everyday life is not just the potential grazing ground of the media but of anyone with a camera and the entire universe unfolds not just at home but in the palm of your hand virtually anywhere you travel Bringing together a transdisciplinary team of leading scholars and artists from North America Europe and Asia this volume documents and theorizes this new visibility It focuses on the proliferation of a range of new visual technologies examining questions of subjectivity agency and surveillance as well as mapping and theorizing new practices of visibility within this new visual assemblage New Visualities New Technologies addresses the pressing need for the conceptual understanding of new forms of seeing looking presenting and hiding      Spirits of Community K. D. M. Snell, 2016-06-16 Concern about the decline of community and the theme of community spirit are internationally widespread in the modern world The English past has featured many representations of declining community expressed by those who lamented its loss in quite different periods and in diverse genres This book analyses how community spirit and the passing of community have been described in the past whether for good or ill with an eye to modern issues such as the so called loneliness epidemic or the social consequences of alternative structures of community It does this through examination of authors such as Thomas Hardy James Wentworth Day Adrian Bell and H E Bates by appraising detective fiction writers analysing parish magazines considering the letter writing of the parish poor in the 18th and 19th centuries and through the depictions of realist landscape painters such as George Morland K D M Snell addresses modern social concerns showing how many current preoccupations had earlier precedents In presenting past representations of declining communities and the way these affected individuals of very different political persuasions the book draws out lessons and examples from the past about what community has meant hitherto setting into context modern predicaments and judgements about spirits of community today
