Shackleton's Boat Journey The Story Of The James Caird:

Shackleton's Boat Harding McGregor Dunnett, 2015-08-24 The James Caird is an unlikely hero a 23 foot lifeboat that completed the most desperate and celebrated open boat voyage in history On board were Ernest Shackleton Tom Crean and Frank Worsley now some of the most recognised names in Antarctic and Polar literature history This is the story of that little boat from its commissioning by Worsley to its dramatic escape from Antarctica to its final resting place at Dulwich College in the UK Shackleton's Boat is a worthy memorial to a vessel famous in maritime history and a story whose heroism has inspired generations Similar to Tom Crean An Unsung Hero Captain Francis Crozier Last Man Standing and Seek the Frozen Lands Shackleton's Boat Journey Frank A. Worsley, 2012-11-05 On August 1 1914 on the eve of World War I Sir Ernest Shackleton and his hand picked crew embarked in HMS Endurance from London's West India Dock for an expedition to the Antarctic It was to turn into one of the most breathtaking survival stories of all time Even as they coasted down the channel Shackleton wired back to London to offer his ship to the war effort The reply came from the First Lord of the Admiralty one Winston Churchill Proceed And proceed they did When the Endurance was trapped and finally crushed to splinters by pack ice in late 1915 they drifted on an ice floe for five months before getting to open sea and launching three tiny boats as far as the inhospitable storm lashed Elephant Island They drank seal oil and ate baby albatross delicious apparently From there Shackleton himself and seven others the author among them went on in a 22 foot open boat for an unbelievable 800 miles through the Antarctic seas in winter to South Georgia and rescue It is an extraordinary story of courage and even good humour among men who must have felt certain secretly that they were going to die Worsley's account first published in 1940 captures that bulldog spirit exactly uncomplaining tough competent modest and deeply loyal It's gripping and strangely moving

The Heroic Age of Antarctic Exploration on Film and Television, Volume 1 John Atkins, 2025-09-17 This book examines in detail for the first time the screen legacy of the great Irish born Antarctic explorer Sir Ernest Shackleton 1874-1922 It encompasses the pioneering expedition films he made from 1909 to 1922 and the documentary and drama productions he has inspired since then The book provides a unique and original approach to understanding Shackleton including the first comprehensive account of the original Antarctic documentary film now lost that recorded the achievements of the 1908-09 Nimrod expedition Drawing on much original source material films diaries contemporary newspapers and journals that has not been unearthed by previous authors this volume presents a fresh perspective and includes a filmography with more than 100 entries spanning 1908 to 2024 Access All Areas Sara Wheeler, 2011-03-31 In a series of remarkable books Travels in a Thin Country Terra Incognita Cherry A Life of Apsley Cherry Garrard Too Close to the Sun and The Magnetic North Sara Wheeler has shown that she is not only one of the finest travel writers of her generation but a very fine biographer too Published to coincide with her fiftieth birthday Access All Areas gathers together a selection of her shorter pieces both journalism and introductions to other books As one would expect the frozen poles of the earth feature often whether she is spending the night in Captain Scott's hut or reliving the adventures of Shackleton and Nansen. But its hot places feature too Malawi, Kerala, Cuba and Bangladesh. She writes brilliantly of her heroes Mary Kingsley, Fanny Trollope, Norman Lewis, Jan Morris and Sybille Bedford and about the pains and pleasures of writing biography. Worried that having her children would end her roaming, she took her children with her to the Arctic and on a brilliantly depicted cruise on the QE2. She learns to bellydance, to strip and to walk on the wing of a biplane at 3000 feet. This is an immensely varied and satisfying collection. Shackleton's Boat Journey J. R. Piggott, 1996. Shackleton's Photographer Shane Murphy, 2002. A richly illustrated biography of the life and times and personality of Frank Hurley and the Endurance expedition. Marine Chronometers at Greenwich Jonathan Betts, 2018-01-03. The Marine Chronometers at Greenwich is the fifth and largest of the distinguished series of catalogues of instruments in the collections of the National Maritime Museum. Housed at the Royal Observatory Greenwich, the home of time and the Prime Meridian of the world, this extraordinary collection which includes the celebrated marine timekeepers by John Harrison 1693-1776 is generally considered to be the finest of its kind in existence. The book is however much more than just a catalogue and includes an accessible and engaging history of the chronometer, revealing why these instruments were important in our scientific and cultural history and explaining in simple terms how they worked and were used. A comprehensive Glossary and Bibliography are included to ensure any technicalities are explained and that the reader has suggestions for useful further reading. Over 480 photographs and illustrations, including many fine macro photographs and line drawings, illustrate the jewel-like beauty of the chronometer's construction and explain the function and subtleties of its mechanism. A chapter on How the Chronometer was Made describes the fine subdivision of labour used to create these special machines from bare metal right up to delivery on board ship and brief biographies of the makers tell the human story behind this important nineteenth-century industry. Another chapter, The Evolution of the Chronometer, aimed at collectors, historians and curators, provides clearly structured information on assessing and dating the chronometer, something many find difficult. And for the dedicated specialist, there is extensive tabulated data on the technical structure of this important collection, a unique resource for future research. Shackleton Kim Heacox, 1999.
