Psychoanalysis Of Developmental Arrests Theory And Treatment:

Psychoanalysis of Developmental Arrests Robert D. Stolorow, Frank M. Lachmann, 1980 Das Risiko der Verbundenheit Chris Jaenicke, 2006 Borderline und Narzissmus Elinor Greenberg, 2021-04-13 Sind Narzissmus und Borderline heilbar Dr Elinor Greenberg zeigt mit diesem leicht verständlichen Praxisbuch wie Borderline narzisstische und schizoide Persönlichkeitsanpassungen erkannt werden und wie Therapeuten, Psychologen und Ärzte erfolgreich mit betroffenen Patienten arbeiten können. Im Gegensatz zu vielen anderen Therapeuten hält Greenberg narzisstische Persönlichkeitsstörungen für behandelbar. Muster können verändert werden. Jeder, der die notwendige Therapiearbeit macht, kann Bewältigungsstrategien entwickeln und Kindheitswunden heilen. Die Autorin präsentiert Diagnosen und Erfolg versprechende Behandlungsmöglichkeiten und veranschaulicht diese mit vielen Beispielen aus ihrer langjährigen Praxis. Deutlich wird dabei: Menschen mit einer Borderline Persönlichkeitsstörung sehnen sich vor allem nach Liebe. Narzissten streben nach Bewunderung und schizoide Persönlichkeiten suchen zentral nach Sicherheit im Vergleich zu anderen Menschen. Jeweils in extremer bis pathologischer Ausprägung.

The Theory And Practice Of Self Psychology M. White, Marcella Bakur Weiner, 2014-05-12 First published in 1987. The purpose of this book is to offer insights and guidelines for psychoanalytic and psychotherapeutic treatment to the practitioner working or planning to work with the late Heinz Kohut's concepts of self psychology. By integrating theory and practice, the authors offer case material from their therapeutic experience showing how self psychology can be used with a wide range of patients, culminating in outcomes that are not only beneficial but also exciting and sometimes surprising.

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 18 Jerome A. Winer, 2014-05-12 A highlight of Volume 18 is two developmental studies that attempt to situate psychoanalysis within the landscape of contemporary science. R. Galatzer-Levy and B. Cohler's examination of the developmental psychology of the self and F. Levin's consideration of psychological development and the changing organization of the brain. Clinical studies focus on analytic stalemate. J. G. Maguire the dream screen transference. D. Edelstein and varieties of therapeutic alliance. B. Brandchaft and R. Stolorow.

Modes of Therapeutic Action Martha Stark, 2000-12-01 How do we position ourselves moment by moment in relation to our patients and how do these positions inform both what we come to know about our patients and how we intervene? Do we participate as neutral object, as empathic self object, or as authentic subject? Do we strive to enhance the patient's knowledge to provide a corrective experience, or to work at the intimate edge? In an effort to answer these and other clinically relevant questions about the process of psychotherapeutic change, Martha Stark has developed a comprehensive theory of therapeutic action that integrates the interpretive perspective of classical psychoanalysis, Model 1, the corrective provision perspective of self psychology, and those object relations theories emphasizing the internal absence of good, Model 2, and the relational perspective of contemporary psychoanalysis and those object relations theories emphasizing the internal presence of bad, Model 3. Model I is about knowledge and insight. It is a one person psychology because its focus is on the patient and the internal workings of her mind Model 2 is about corrective experience It is a one and a half person psychology because its emphasis is not so much on the relationship per se but on the filling in of the patient's deficits by way of the therapist's corrective provision what ultimately matters is not who the therapist is but rather what she can offer Model 3 is about relationship the real relationship It is a two person psychology because its focus is on patients and therapists who relate to each other as real people it is about mutuality reciprocity and intersubjectivity Whereas Model 2 is about give and involves the therapist's bringing the best of who she is into the room Model 3 is about give and take and involves the therapist's bringing all of who she is into the room As Dr Stark repeatedly demonstrates in numerous clinical vignettes the three modes of therapeutic action—knowledge, experience and relationship—do not mutually exclude but mutually enhance If as therapists we can tolerate the necessary uncertainty that comes with the recognition that there is an infinite variety of possibilities for change then we will be able to enhance the therapeutic potential of each moment and optimize our effectiveness as clinicians

Stolorow, 2014-06-05 Structures of Subjectivity Explorations in Psychoanalytic Phenomenology and Contextualism is a revised and expanded second edition of a work first published in 1984 which was the first systematic presentation of the intersubjective viewpoint what George Atwood and Robert Stolorow called psychoanalytic phenomenology in psychoanalysis This edition contains new chapters tracing the further development of their thinking over the ensuing decades and explores the personal origins of their most essential ideas In this new edition Atwood and Stolorow cover the philosophical and theoretical assumptions of psychoanalysis and present a broad approach that they have designated phenomenological contextualism This approach addresses personal subjective worlds in all their richness and idiosyncrasy and focuses on their relational contexts of origin and therapeutic transformation Structures of Subjectivity covers the principles guiding the practice of psychoanalytic therapy from the authors' viewpoints and includes numerous detailed clinical case studies The book will be essential reading for psychoanalysts practitioners of psychotherapy psychiatrists psychologists counselors and social workers It will also be of interest to scholars and students with an interest in psychoanalytic theory and practice and its philosophical premises

Entwicklung der Emotionalität Hans-Peter Kapfhammer, 1995 Intimacy Martin Fisher, 2012-12-06 Intimacy is a complex and heterogeneous concept that has generated a variety of definitions theories and philosophies over the years Although there is much disagreement about the essential meaning of the term there seems to be a consensus that intimacy whatever it may be is of central importance in human relationships and specifically in the theory and practice of psychotherapy One approach to intimacy focuses on an intrapsychic conception Intimacy occurs when an individual achieves full self knowledge and is fully in touch with his or her feelings and wishes From this viewpoint an intimate act occurs when a person is willing to share these feelings and wishes with another so that self disclosure becomes an important index of intimacy This definition also implies that intimacy need not be reciprocal so that a therapeutic relationship can achieve a good deal of intimacy without the therapist engaging in self disclosure An alternate approach to intimacy stresses the interpersonal nature of the concept Intimacy is seen as the product of an interaction and can only occur between people Each one is able to touch something meaningful in the other whether at a conscious behavioral level or an unconscious and inferential level Therapists seeking intimacy in these terms would probably be a good deal more active and consider it more important to reveal something of the substance of their own persons if not the facts of their lives Psychoanalysis and Psychotherapy, 1991 International Journal of Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy Robert J. Langs, 1984-03 Psychotherapy of the Submerged Personality Alexander Wolf, 1997-12-01 The submerged personality is one in which the ego is replaced by an introjected parental self Needing their parents for security these patients give up their own perceptions of reality and accept the reality imposed by their parents The psychotherapy necessary to effect introject dispersion is described in this book Psychoanalysis and Contemporary Thought, 1978 Bulletin of the Menninger Clinic Menninger Clinic, 1988

Chicorel Index to Mental Health Book Reviews Marietta Chicorel, 1986 Body and Self Dale Mendell, 1994-12 Covers biological sociological and psychological factors of female development The contributors argue against the traditional psychoanalytic depiction of the emergence of a female identity as a secondary defensive organisation The book sees female identity body relationships as interrelated American Journal of Psychotherapy, 1947 Rehabilitation Education, 1997 Group, 1985 American Book Publishing Record, 1981
