Handbook of Psychological Services for Children and Adolescents Jan N. Hughes, Annette M. La Greca, Jane Close Conoley, 2001-01-11 This handbook provides a comprehensive discussion of the key elements which should be part of any successful program tailored to the needs of children with diagnosable mental behavioral or emotional disorders The overall goal of the book is to provide an overview of the psychological services available to children and adolescents in school and community settings The book is divided into five parts Framing the Issues Delivering Psychological Services in Diverse Settings Preventive Interventions Treatments with Specific Populations and System Level Consultation Settings Preventive Interventions

Foundations of Biopsychology Andrew P. Wickens, 2005 Foundations of Biopsychology is an excellent introduction to a fascinating field of study Up to date and comprehensive this is an ideal companion for any biopsychology student and is particularly suitable for use on a semester based course Foundations of Biopsychology is a lively and engaging introduction to how the brain produces behaviour The book does not assume any background knowledge in biology or psychology Although academically rigorous it adopts an accessible modular format and is supported throughout by diagrams and images This edition Places a strong emphasis on the historical development of the subject to help students gain a deeper understanding of the main themes in biopsychology References exciting and up to date research emphasising how the discipline is moving forward Special interest boxes provide new insights into the brain in order to stimulate debate These include discussions on how Einstein's brain was different the effects of navigational experience on the shape of the brain and how laughter affects the same areas of the brain as cocaine This book includes bibliographies to encourage further reading It also features search terms to help students locate further information on the Internet A companion website is located at www.pearsoned.co.uk/wickens This provides additional support for students and includes Mind Maps to bring study of the brain to life Multiple choice questions to test progress An essay writing guide to assist with assignments Links to relevant websites for further research Dr Andrew Wickens lectures at the University of Central Lancashire in biopsychology and neuroscience Front cover image Coloured 3 dimensional MRI scan of the white matter pathways of the brain side view Credit Tom Barrick Chris Clark SGHMS Science Photo Library

Student's Companion to the World Wide Web Jim Millhorn, 1999-11-03 The World Wide Web is expanding at a rapid pace This progressive growth has inevitably created a proliferation of sites and information sources that are posted on this medium Jim Millhorn attempts to examine a small corner of this undergrowth in Student's Companion to the World Wide Web by focusing on outstanding academic and scholarly sites for students in the social sciences and humanities While the Web is an invaluable source of information students do not always know how to extract the information that they seek This guide can offer assistance This book expertly handles common reference sources search engines meta subject guides the humanities and social science disciplines which are arranged in an alphabetized sequence of chapters featuring each individual discipline An innovative and timely answer to the student's quest for information this book opens the broadest purview the Web offers on a specific discipline while simultaneously limiting the number of featured sites Psychology on the Internet M. Neil Browne,2001 Psychology Henry L. Roediger,1996 This is an upper level introductory psychology text that incorporates cutting edge material to present the core aspects of psychology The authors use a set of five themes that are woven throughout the text to unite all of the material These primary themes or emphases introduced in Chapter 1 include biological learning cognitive developmental and sociocultural factors Then in each succeeding chapter the themes are a introduced at the beginning of the chapter in a set of Thematic Questions b woven into the chapter material and c summarized at the end in Themes in Review New features have been added to this edition to create a more exciting and visually enhanced text Searching & Researching on the Internet & the World Wide Web Karen Hartman,Ernest C. Ackermann,2005 Hartman and Ackermann both Mary Washington College offer a work on how to search for information on the Internet They thoroughly overview Internet searching and discuss search tools and strategies directories search engines and specialized tools searching for news and multimedia and citing and evaluating Internet information The strength of this book is the hands on chapters that contain examples meant to appeal to students from a variety of disciplines Each chapter contains practice exercises designed to allow readers to master fundamental search skills Additionally the chapters are compartmentalized allowing readers to skip materials they feel are unnecessary or with which they are already familiar The target audience for this book is readers with little knowledge of Internet searching and those who desire a primer on this topic However this book is also a helpful resource for any level of Web searcher because it contains in depth information on current search engines and their features as well as other relevant Internet search tools
