* = $p < 0.05$,  = $p < 0.01$,  = $p < 0.001$; Overall Probability = the probability or risk of any driver being stopped regardless of race. Probability by Race indicates the probability or risk of being stopped among nonblack and black drivers, respectively. Risk Differences represent the difference in the probability or risk of black drivers versus nonblack drivers being stopped and is calculated by subtracting the probability for nonblacks from the probability for blacks. The risk ratio (or relative risk) is calculated by dividing the probability or risk of black drivers being stopped by the probability or risk of nonblack drivers being stopped. N represents the number of drivers observed at each location. All statistical tests are two-sided using 95% confidence intervals.

African American Males Dionne J. Jones, African American Males Recapturing Space: New Middle-Range Theory in Spatial Demography Frank M. Howell, Jeremy R. Porter, Stephen A. Matthews, 2015-11-04 With a unique focus on middle range theory this book details the application of spatial analysis to demographic research as a way of integrating and better understanding the different transitional components of the overall demographic transition This book first details key concepts and measures in modern spatial demography and shows how they can be applied to middle range theory to better understand people places communities and relationships throughout the world Next it shows middle range theory in practice from using spatial data as a proxy for social science statistics to examining the effect of fracking in Pennsylvania on the formation of new coalitions among environmental advocacy organizations The book also traces future developments and offers some potential solutions to promoting and facilitating instruction in spatial demography This volume is an ideal resource for advanced undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in courses involving spatial analyses in the social sciences from sociology and political science to economics and educational research In addition scholars and others interested in the role that geographic context plays in relation to their research will find this book a helpful guide in further developing their work The Urban League Review National Urban League, National Urban League. Research Department, 1993 Geospatial Approaches to Energy Balance and Breast Cancer David Berrigan, Nathan A. Berger, 2019-07-15 Cancer occurs in specific places and spaces each of which have identifiable geographic coordinates characterized by unique natural built and social characteristics all of which contribute significantly to cancer across the spectrum from etiology through diagnosis treatment and outcomes In the first volume of this series published in 2010 a single chapter was focused on these geographic influences Since then the field of geospatial studies of cancer prevention and control has exploded in approaches and applications Accordingly this volume focuses on what has now become a very specific research endeavor Geospatial Factors Impacting Breast Cancer The book provides important insights into this relatively new and rapidly developing field It should be of value to all students of the Energy Balance Cancer Series and a wide ranging introduction to problems in cancer prevention and control for geographers demographers and other researchers with a geospatial perspective Moreover it provides important information for all oncologists endocrinologists and behavioral modification professionals to better understand their patients in the context of their environment It should also provide important considerations for physicians scientists public health professionals and disparity investigator planning clinical trials community interventions and community planning The Routledge Handbook of Urban Resilience Michael A. Burayidi, Adriana Allen, John Twigg, Christine Wamsler, 2019-11-27 This volume provides a comprehensive discussion and overview of urban resilience including socio ecological and economic hazard and disaster resilience It provides a summary of state of the art thinking on resilience the different approaches tools and methodologies for understanding the subject in urban contexts and brings together related reflections and initiatives Throughout the different chapters the handbook critically examines and reviews the resilience concept from various disciplinary and professional perspectives It also discusses major urban crises past and recent and the generic lessons they provide for resilience In this context the authors provide case studies from different places and times including historical material and contemporary examples and studies that offer concrete guidance on how to approach urban resilience Other chapters focus on how current understanding of urban systems such as shrinking cities green infrastructure disaster volunteerism and urban energy systems are affecting the capacity of urban citizens settlements and nation states to respond to different forms and levels of stressors and shocks The handbook concludes with a synthesis of the state of the art knowledge on resilience and points the way forward in refining the conceptualization and application of urban resilience The book is intended for scholars and graduate students in urban studies environmental and sustainability studies geography planning architecture urban design political science and sociology for whom it will provide an invaluable and up to date guide to current approaches across these disciplines that converge in the study of urban resilience The book also provides important direction to practitioners and civic leaders who are engaged in supporting cities and regions to position themselves for resilience in the face of climate change unpredictable socioenvironmental shocks and incremental risk accumulation

Battle for the Flag Amelia Johns, 2015-07-01 Ten years after the Cronulla riots the violence racism and branding of young bodies with signs and symbols of Australian nationalism along with the reprisal attacks by Lebanese Australian youth continues to inflame discussions about race relations in Australia with many conversations shifting away from ideas of multiculturalism and cultural diversity and towards patriotism localism security and fear of the predominantly Muslim Other Battle for the Flag contextualises and challenges the narrative by drawing upon participant observation and interviews conducted with local residents of diverse backgrounds By paying attention to the voices of bystanders and those involved the riot is identified as an unstable and fluid formation where the Australian flag the beach and whiteness itself was co opted into a much more contingent contested and subcultural formation than hitherto described Islamic Studies Series Volume 18

Carpenter, Shahrzad Mojab, 2017-08-26 Internationally there is a growing argument amongst policy makers and academics that broadening spectrums of young adults are at risk of various types of material social physical and cultural insecurity In this way the traditional identification of transitions from youth to adulthood marked by points of permanence such as stable employment are beginning to fray Through various academic popular and policy literatures young people today are imagined as being both threatened by social inequality as well as a threat against which our notions of security and social cohesion are constructed This edited collection includes empirical and theoretical work concerning the relationships between youth young adults public policy and educational research with its primary focus being new forms of public policy in Canada that we argue are emblematic of international policy instruments examining the policy and economic participation of young people Examining key sites of youth participation including post secondary institutions community based programs and work employment programs the included case studies examine how young people navigate and learn from everyday experiences of
