Rasul Numa Dargah Jama Masjid Purana Qila and the Qutb complex tracing their modern lives from the nineteenth century into the twentieth Mrinalini Rajagopalan argues that the modern construction of the history of these monuments entailed the careful selection manipulation and regulation of the past by both the colonial and later postcolonial states Although framed as objective archival truths these histories were meant to erase or marginalize the powerful and persistent affective appropriations of the monuments by groups who often existed outside the center of power By analyzing these archival and affective histories together Rajagopalan works to redefine the historic monument far from a symbol of a specific past the monument is shown in Building Histories to be a culturally mutable object with multiple stories to tell

Natural Stone and World Heritage: Delhi-Agra, India Gurmeet Kaur, Sakoon Singh, Anuvinder Ahuja, Noor Singh, 2020-05-24 This book discusses heritage stones which were used in the making of the architectonic heritage of Delhi and Agra encompassing UNESCO world heritage sites and heritage sites designated as prominent by the Indian government The most famous monument of the two cities is the Taj Mahal of Agra The book focuses on the geological characteristics of the famous Makrana marble red sandstone and other sandstone variants of the Vindhyan basin and Delhi quartzite the most widely used stones in almost all the monuments as well as on their quarries The work also aims to sensitise the public to protecting and preserving the architectonic heritage of these two densely populated cities in India as repositories of our past cultures and traditions Identifying the nature and provenance of stones rocks used in construction will lead to better restoration for future generations in light of the deterioration of architectonic heritage through various natural weathering agencies and anthropogenic activities The book will serve as a useful source book to economic geologists geologists archaeologists architects historians and stone industry operators specifically and to academic and non academic communities travellers and tourism industry operators in general The book will benefit students researchers and rock enthusiasts spanning all age groups and academic levels

Delhi's Qutb Complex Catherine Blanshard Asher, 2017 Set apart from the descriptive guides that exist on the subject this book analyzes the meaning of the Qutb Complex's monuments and their afterlife from the fourteenth through the twenty first centuries The Qutb complex is one of Delhi's major tourist attractions and the Qutb Minar is often used as an iconic emblem representing the city Yet aside from scholarly essays and largely descriptive books on the site there has been little attempt to write an accessible analysis of the site's monuments patrons inscriptions and history This book will examine not only the site as it was developed in the early Sultanate period but also probe its life prior to the establishment of Muslim rule in the late twelfth century and then again after the period of Sultanate patronage of the site up to the present The aim of this volume is to prove that over time the complex remained considerably more significant in meaning than is generally believed The surrounding urban area including dargahs temples mosques tombs and water sources will be studied in terms of their relation to the core mosque and minaret A comprehensive analysis of the interwoven histories of the Qutb Complex and its architecture this book is both visually sumptuous and informative
