Cracking Facebook Maria Leena Korpiaakko, 2015-10-30 This book presents a Facebook study on members of the Cusp Generation or those born before the great digital divide of 1995 This delineation allows for a discussion on the possible socio cultural implications of Facebook use for people of all ages Members of the Cusp Generation are in a unique position as part digital natives to easily acquire and use new media technologies while being more critically aware of the personal social and cultural effects that may arise from them thanks to having some memory of the pre digital era Drawing on identity theories rooted in critical theory and cultural studies the author shows that there are potential constrictions on people's agency in their Facebook use caused by consumer discourse Facebook's hyperreal nature and structure psychological predispositions and the potential for avatar attachment In raising concerns over the impacts of technology based communication this book explores how the medium of Facebook extends and exacerbates processes of offline social reproduction and discusses how the positive social and political aspects of Facebook can be enhanced The findings contribute to academic discussions in the fields of cultural studies and Education and can be applied to the development of critical media literacy for curriculum and pedagogy
