Root Causes Of Sudans Civil Wars African Issues:

The Root Causes of Sudan's Civil Wars Douglas Hamilton Johnson,2011 Sudan s post independence history has been dominated by political and civil strife Most commentators have attributed the country s recurring civil war either to an age old racial divide between Arabs and Africans or to recent colonially constructed inequalities This book attempts a more complex analysis briefly examining the historical political economic and social factors which have contributed to periodic outbreaks of violence between the state and its peripheries In tracing historical continuities it outlines the essential differences between the modern Sudan s first civil war in the 1960s and the current war It also looks at the series of minor civil wars generated by and contained within the major conflict as well as the regional and international factors including humanitarian aid which have exacerbated civil violence This introduction is aimed at students of North East Africa and of conflict and ethnicity It should be useful for people in aid and international organizations who need a straightforward analytical survey which will help them assess the prospects for a lasting peace in Sudan Douglas H Johnson is an independent scholar and former international expert on the Abyei Boundaries Commission copyright A2016 Richard Cockett Contested Sudan Ibrahim Elnur, 2009-01-13 Since gaining independence in 1956 Sudan has endured a troubled history including the longest civil war in African history in Southern Sudan and more recent conflicts such as the humanitarian crisis in Darfur This book explores this history of ensuing conflict examining why Sudan failed to sustain a successful modern post colonial state The book goes on to consider in detail the various attempts to end Sudan's conflicts and initiate political and economic reconstruction including the failure which followed the Addis Ababa agreement of 1982 and the more recent efforts following the Nivasha agreement of 2005 which ended the civil war in the south It critically examines how reconstruction has been envisioned and the role of the various major players in the process including donors NGOs ex combatants and the central state authority It argues that reconstruction can only be successful if it takes into account the fundamental and irreversible transformations of society engendered by war and conflict which in the case of Sudan includes the massive rural to urban population flows experienced during the years of warfare It compares possible future scenarios for Sudan and considers how the obstacles to successful post conflict reconstruction might best be overcome Overall this book will not only be of interest to scholars of Sudan and regional specialists but to all social scientists interested in the dynamics of post conflict reconstruction and state building Terrorist Groups and the New Tribalism Jeffrey Kaplan, 2010-02-25 The central focus of this book is a small but vitally important group of movements that constitute a distinct fifth wave of modern terrorism here called the New Tribalism Terrorist Groups and the New Tribalism examines a collection of terrorist or insurgent movements whose similarity in tactics strategic vision and desire to radically reshape their worlds to conform with a Golden Age dream of perfection which is to be achieved through a genocidal or ethnic cleansing process to make way for the emergence of a new radically perfected tribal utopia in a single generation These shared strategic and tactical factors allow them to be examined through a comparative lens as a distinct fifth wave of modern terrorism Structured around the theoretical framework of David Rapoport's Four Waves thesis the book examines anomalous movements that began within a distinct wave of international terrorism but following a crisis model has turned inwards toward radical localism tribalism and xenophobia The text is divided between theory and in depth case studies of the Ugandan Lord's Resistance Army and the Sudanese Janjaweed It concludes with a design for further field work based research This book will be of interest to students of Terrorism and Political Violence Genocide Conflict Studies African politics and Political Science in general Jeffrey Kaplan is an Associate Professor of Religion and the Director of the Institute for the Study of Religion Violence and Memory at the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh He is the author of 11 books on terrorism and political violence War, Peace and Progress in the 21st Century Mark Berger, Heloise Weber, 2013-09-13 The history of development is one marked by insecurities violence and persistent conflict It is not surprising therefore that development is now thought of as one of the central challenges of world politics However its complexities are often overlooked in scholarly analysis and among policy practitioners who tend to adopt a technocratic approach to the crisis of development and violence This book brings together a wide range of contributions aimed at investigating different aspects of the history of development and violence and its implications for contemporary efforts to consolidate the development security nexus From environmental concerns through vigilante citizenship to the legacies of armed conflicts during and after decolonization the different chapters reconstruct the contradictory history of development and critically engage contemporary responses and their implications for social and political analyses In examining violence and insecurity in relation to core organising principles of world politics the contributors engage the problems associated with the nation state and the inter state system and underlying assumptions of the promises of progress The book offers a range of perspectives on the contradictions of development and on how domination violence and resistance have been conceived At the same time it exemplifies the relevance of alternative methodological and conceptual approaches to contemporary challenges of development This book was published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly

Multicultural America Ronald H. Bayor, 2011-07-22 This encyclopedia contains 50 thorough profiles of the most numerically significant immigrant groups now making their homes in the United States telling the story of our newest immigrants and introducing them to their fellow Americans One of the main reasons the United States has evolved so quickly and radically in the last 100 years is the large number of ethnically diverse immigrants that have become part of its population People from every area of the world have come to America in an effort to realize their dreams of more opportunity and better lives either for themselves or for their children This book provides a fascinating picture of the lives of immigrants from 50 countries who have contributed substantially to the diversity of the United States exploring all aspects of the immigrants lives in the old world as well as the new Each essay explains why these people have come to the United States how they have adjusted to and integrated into American society and what portends for their future Accounts of the experiences of the second generation and the effects of relations between the United States and the sending country round out these unusually rich and demographically detailed portraits Ausgewählte neuere Literatur, 2003 African Studies Review, 2003 The Root Causes of Sudan's Civil Wars D.H. Johnson, 2003 This book attempts to explain the origins of Sudan's multiple and recurring civil wars and their current expansion from southern Sudan to other parts of the country and across international borders In this book the author examines the economic and political patterns which have affected the development and exercise of state power in the Sudan since the 19th century to explain the process and consequences of regional underdevelopment and the conjunction between perceptions of religion and race specific to this region The post independence definition of Sudanese nationalism rooted in Islam and Arabism alienated other ethnic groups who demanded secular ideologies based on equal citizenship rights Cold war rivalries neighbouring states foreign relief and developmental agencies and international oil companies further impacted the war's direction and duration Two decades of hostilities have broken the bounds of North South Arab African and Muslim non Muslim conflict and this overall civil war is today composed of interlocking struggles Now the process of self determination needs to accommodate demands for greater self government for the Sudanese regions In its appendix the book contains a chronology of events since 1972 to 2002 and a bibliographic essay on published literature and agency reports on Sudan
