Cash Machine Charges Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Treasury Committee, 2005 About one third of ATMs now make direct charges to consumers and in 2004 it is estimated that UK consumers paid 140 million in charges made whilst accessing funds through cash machines The Committee's report examines the principle and increasing trend towards charging the clarity of presentation of these charges to the consumer the likely impact on financial exclusion and low income households and key areas for action from government regulators and the industry Findings include that although there has been an increase in free machines as well as charging machines their location and the lack of transparency about which machines make charges hinders genuine competition and consumer choice Recommendations include that there should be a clearer indication of the amount of surcharge on external signage with standardised labelling for all free and charging machines The LINK network agreement needs to improve consumer representation and its enforcement mechanisms The trend towards ATM charges should not be allowed to exacerbate existing financial exclusion and the Government should ensure that the switch to direct payment of benefits does not disadvantage recipients in their access to cash

The Insolvency Service House of Commons Business and Enterprise, 2009-05-06 With the economic downturn there has been an alarming increase in the number of companies entering liquidation and unprecedented numbers of people are being made bankrupt So the Committee decided to review the work of the Insolvency Service and found it to operate in a generally efficient and effective way The investigation though uncovered concerns about the insolvency regime Public confidence in the insolvency regime will be damaged unless prompt robust and effective action is taken to ensure that pre pack administrations when a company's business and assets are sold on terms that were negotiated between the buyer and the administrator before the company formally entered administration are transparent and free from abuse. This causes particular outrage where the existing management buy back the business and continue to trade clear of the original debts. Phoenix pre packs. Pre packs of this kind fuel concerns about illegitimate self-serving alliances between directors and insolvency practitioners. The interests of unsecured trade creditors must take a higher priority especially in phoenix pre pack administrations. The Committee welcomes the new practice statement Statement of Insolvency Practice 16 which aims to increase the transparency of pre packs. Monitoring of its implementation in the recession becomes a matter of considerable urgency. Insolvency practitioners' remuneration is perceived as unduly high by many creditors. The Insolvency Service should publicise the results of its monitoring to see whether insolvency practitioners are complying with the current practice statement governing the approval of their fees. The Department for Business Enterprise and Regulatory Reform must ensure the Service's funding arrangements are sufficiently robust to handle the very high levels of insolvency.

Draft Heritage Protection Bill Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Culture, Media and Sport Committee, 2008. In April 2008 the Department for Culture Media and Sport DCMS published a Draft Heritage Bill and the Government has indicated that the Bill will be in next year's legislative programme. The Bill is designed to unify heritage protection regimes, allow greater public involvement in decisions and place heritage at the heart of the planning system. The Committee has undertaken pre-legislative scrutiny of the bill but this was undermined by the incomplete nature of the legislation. The Committee also felt that the Government must prioritise the revision of Planning policy guidelines PPGs 15-16 to ensure that the new guidance on planning policy can be implemented at the same time as the Bill. Further serious issues of concern included the accuracy of current cost estimates, impact assessment and sufficient staffing with the necessary skills in particular conservation officers. The Committee was also not convinced that Heritage Partnership Agreements HPAs as a new system of management agreements for owners of large estates were a robust business option. Nor could any evidence be found that either DCMS or English Heritage had considered any amendments to the legislation which would improve the operation or effectiveness of the enforcement powers for local authorities The Motor World ,1915 The Index ...

Parliament. Joint Committee on Human Rights,2009 In this report on the Borders Citizenship and Immigration Bill the Joint Committee on Human Rights says the Government should reconsider proposed changes to the pathway to British citizenship Whilst the Bill does not change the underlying position of migrants access to benefits it extends the time it takes to get to applying for citizenship by a year During this period a person given the new probationary citizenship will be ineligible for 15 different types of benefit that are available to those with indefinite leave to remain The Committee is also concerned that the new rules may be applied retrospectively and urges the Government not to override the legitimate expectations of migrants already on the path to citizenship under the current rules The Committee also has concerns about the proposed short cut to citizenship reducing the time it takes to naturalise can by two years if applicants participate in unpaid community activity Tracking this activity risks infringing people s right to privacy and the Committee is also concerned that the requirement risks penalising people who are unable to undertake such activities because of disability or caring responsibilities or because they are already in paid full time work The Committee welcomes the new positive duty to safeguard and promote the welfare of children in the discharge of immigration asylum nationality and customs functions and the reversal of the Government s previous policy of excluding children subject to immigration control from the protection of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child
