U.S. Foreign Service Scholarship Program United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Foreign Relations, 1971

U.S. Foreign Service Scholarship Program, Hearing ... 92-1, on S. 390, June 18, 1971 United States. Congress. Senate. Foreign Relations, 1971      Research Methods for African Scholarship Kehbuma Langmia, Chuka Onwumechili, Laban

Ayiro, Agnes Lucy Lando, 2024-11-19 This book spotlights and demystifies under researched elements of research design to support successful research initiatives undertaken by students in African universities This volume marks a significant and important departure from research design books rooted in European and American socio cultural context and places emphasis on contextual realities in Africa Attending to socio cultural oral and written methods of eliciting data from participants contextual sampling techniques oral and third party open ended survey instrumentation and multi pronged data analysis schemes that emphasize ontological epistemological and axiological findings these chapters constitute a novel and much needed focus on realities and examples from the continent of Africa Written by African scholars the book will appeal to post graduate students and early career scholars and researchers with interests in research methods across the social sciences      Theoretical Scholarship and Applied Practice Sarah Pink, Vaike Fors, Tom O'Dell, 2017-04-01 Academics across the globe are being urged by universities and research councils to do research that impacts the world beyond academia Yet to date there has been very little reflection amongst scholars and practitioners in these fields concerning the relationship between the theoretical and engaged practices that emerge through such forms of scholarship Theoretical Scholarship and Applied Practice investigates the ways in which theoretical research has been incorporated into recent applied practices across the social sciences and humanities This collection advances our understanding of the ethics values opportunities and challenges that emerge in the making of engaged and interdisciplinary scholarship      Finding Meaning in Civically Engaged Scholarship Marissa L. Diener, Hank Liese, 2009-06-01 The essays in this volume are a collection of reflective narratives rather than traditional scholarly treatises The book is divided into two parts The first part describes our individual journeys as each of us found our way to civically engaged scholarship and came to see it as critical to our academic endeavors and identity This section also highlights the interdisciplinary nature of our work as we discuss our journeys through our own disciplinary lenses The second part presents detailed examples of our civic engagement including service learning classes community based research projects and creation of community service learning spaces These chapters provide a varied picture of the available avenues for civic engagement for students and faculty in a higher education setting We provide sufficient details of our projects and classes to enable replication The book concludes with a discussion of civic engagement as it is defined in the literature The conclusion also discusses institutional factors that support and promote civic engagement as well as the importance of community involvement in service learning Five common themes that emerged across the chapters are described These themes include the use of service learning and civic engagement as an effective pedagogy the relationship between civic engagement and political activism the importance of partnership and collaboration the meaning found in civic engagement and the challenges of civically engaged work     The Harvard Advocate ,1890     Disabled Mothers: Stories and Scholarship By and About Mother with Disabilities Gloria Filax,2014-03-01 This collection of 18 scholarly works and personal accounts from Canada the U S and Australia explores and analyzes issues of parenting by mothers with a variety of physical and mental disabilities The book delves into pregnancy birth adoption child custody discrimination and disability politics Noticing dominant ideas meanings and narratives about mothering and disability as the contributors of this book do exposes how the actual lives and experiences of mothers with disabilities are key to challenging cultural norms and therefore discrimination     Institutional Diversity in American Postsecondary Education Tiffany J. Davis,Shelley Price-Williams,Pietro A. Sasso,2024-07-01 The glossy and polished college videos view books and websites catered to the marketplace of students Some recruitment brochures often discuss famous alumni athletics championships and a vibrant student life Particularly at research universities marketing materials may even focus on entrepreneurs and medical discoveries These types of colleges along with others compromise the marketplace of higher education in which different types of colleges exist across a spectrum of missions institutional sagas and histories Within this marketplace is a bewildering and disorienting catalog of different institutional types and classifications This marketplace also exists within a conglomerate of rankings and ratings that are ordered by US News World Report and Petersons Such rankings are often connected to a larger quest for prestige and primarily facilitated by these private sector publications but are juxtaposed to the higher education industry created Carnegie Classification system The Carnegie Classification system was created as an approach to differentiate the more than 4 000 institutions by size mission and scope for research and policy analysis However this system is also integrated into broader hierarchies of accreditation and funding However the continued reclassification of the system in 2005 2010 and the addition of new categories in 2018 such as doctoral professional has advanced to call attention to and emphasize the importance of the considerable institutional diversity of U S higher education 2005 p 52 However these typologies do not fully describe or conceptualize the organizational administrative culture or student experiences of each of these typologies The rankings guides and the Carnegie Classification systems often overlook more nuanced institutional types such as faith based or works colleges They also overlook the role and impact of Minority Serving Institutions MSI This lack of recognition often facilitates continued invisibility for different institutional types and the diverse multiple student populations they may educate and support Therefore this edited text seeks to expand and further the Carnegie Classification system typology and beyond the private sector rankings This text is a response to a call for existential exploration as an attempt to critically revivify our understanding of the various institutional types and is inspired by the words of David Thornton Moore in which it might be heartening to see a cadre of faculty and critical scholars facilitate a form of discourse in which teachers and students conduct an unfettered investigation of social institutions power relations and value commitment In this text the authors describe and problematize the various institutional types as defined by accreditation Carnegie classification and private sector rankings American Literary Scholarship James Leslie Woodress,1965 Until It Hurts Mark Hyman,2009-04-01 This hair raising look at everything that is wrong with youth sports today its perils its history its key drivers is a powerful call for positive change Buzz Bissinger author of Friday Night Lights Over the last seventy five years adults have staged a hostile takeover of kids sports In one year alone more than 3 5 million children under age fifteen required medical treatment for sports injuries nearly half of which were the result of simple overuse The quest to turn children into tomorrow s superstar athletes has often led adults to push them beyond physical and emotional limits In Until It Hurts journalist coach and sports dad Mark Hyman explores how youth sports reached this problematic state His investigation takes him from the Little League World Series in Pennsylvania to a prestigious Chicago soccer club from adolescent golf and tennis superstars in Atlanta to California volleyball players He interviews dozens of children parents coaches psychologists surgeons sports medicine specialists and former professional athletes He speaks at length with Whitney Phelps Michael s older sister retraces the story of A Very Young Gymnast and its subject Torrance York and tells the saga of the Castle High School girls basketball team of Evansville Indiana which lost three fifths of its lineup to ACL injuries in 2005 Along the way Hyman hears numerous stories about a mother who left her fifteen year old daughter at an interstate exit after a heated exchange over her performance during a soccer game about a coach who ordered preteens to swim laps in three hour shifts for twenty four hours Hyman s exploration leads him to examine the history of youth sports in our country and how it has evolved particularly with the increasing involvement of girls and much more proactive participation of parents With its unique multiple perspective of history of reporting and of personal experience Until It Hurts delves into the complicated issue of sports for children opening up a much needed discussion about the perils of youth sports culture and offering insight into how positive change can be made American Baptist Missionary Magazine and Missionary Intelligencer ,1897 Volumes 7 77 80 83 include 13th 83rd 86th 89th annual report of the American Baptist missionary union Scholarship Boy John Fletcher Clews Harrison,1995 Princeton Alumni Weekly ,2000 Baptist Missionary Magazine ,1897 The Poultry Farmer ,1961 Life and Light for Woman ,1878 Life and Light for Heathen Women ,1878 The Philadelphia Medical Journal ... ,1898 Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine ,1936 The Lafayette Monthly ,1873
