Semidistributive Modules and Rings Askar A. Tuganbaev, 1998 Introduces structural and homological methods of ring theory and explains the relationship between semidistributive modules and flat projective injective multiplication and Bezout modules Contains chapters on areas such as radicals and semisimple modules rings of quotients flat modules and semiperfect rings semiheridity and invariant rings endomorphism rings skew injective rings and monoid rings Includes chapter exercises Background to the material can be found in most graduate level texts in algebra Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Semidistributive Modules and Rings Askar Tuganbaev, 2012-10-15 A module  $M$  is called distributive if the lattice  $\text{Lat } M$  of all its submodules is distributive i.e.  $F \cap (G + H) = (F \cap G) + (F \cap H)$  for all submodules  $F, G$  and  $H$  of the module  $M$  A module  $M$  is called uniserial if all its submodules are comparable with respect to inclusion i.e. the lattice  $\text{Lat } M$  is a chain Any direct sum of distributive resp uniserial modules is called a semidistributive resp serial module The class of distributive resp semidistributive modules properly contains the class of all uniserial resp serial modules In particular all simple resp semisimple modules are distributive resp semidistributive All strongly regular rings for example all factor rings of direct products of division rings and all commutative regular rings are distributive all valuation rings in division rings and all commutative Dedekind rings e.g. rings of integral algebraic numbers or commutative principal ideal rings are distributive A module is called a Bezout module or a locally cyclic module if every finitely generated submodule is cyclic If all maximal right ideals of a ring  $A$  are ideals e.g. if  $A$  is commutative then all Bezout  $A$  modules are distributive

Algebras, Rings and Modules, Volume 2 Michiel Hazewinkel, Nadiya M. Gubarenis, 2017-04-11 The theory of algebras rings and modules is one of the fundamental domains of modern mathematics General algebra more specifically non commutative algebra is poised for major advances in the twenty first century together with and in interaction with combinatorics just as topology analysis and probability experienced in the twentieth century This is the second volume of Algebras Rings and Modules Non commutative Algebras and Rings by M Hazewinkel and N Gubarenis is a continuation stressing the more important recent results on advanced topics of the structural theory of associative algebras rings and modules Handbook of Algebra M.

Hazewinkel, 2000-04-06 Handbook of Algebra Arithmetical Rings and Endomorphisms Askar Tuganbaev, 2019-06-04 This book offers a comprehensive account of not necessarily commutative arithmetical rings examining structural and homological properties of modules over arithmetical rings and summarising the interplay between arithmetical rings and other rings whereas modules with extension properties of submodule endomorphisms are also studied in detail Graduate students and researchers in ring and module theory will find this book particularly valuable Mathematical Reviews, 2000

Algebras, Rings and Modules Michiel Hazewinkel,Nadiya Gubareni,V.V. Kirichenko,2004-10-01 Associative rings and algebras are very interesting algebraic structures In a strict sense the theory of algebras in particular noncommutative algebras originated from a single example namely the quaternions created by Sir William R Hamilton in 1843 This was the first example of a noncommutative numbers system During the next forty years mathematicians introduced other examples of noncommutative algebras began to bring some order into them and to single out certain types of algebras for special attention Thus low dimensional algebras division algebras and commutative algebras were classified and characterized The first complete results in the structure theory of associative algebras over the real and complex fields were obtained by T Molien E Cartan and G Frobenius Modern ring theory began when J H Wedderburn proved his celebrated classification theorem for finite dimensional semisimple algebras over arbitrary fields Twenty years later E Artin proved a structure theorem for rings satisfying both the ascending and descending chain condition which generalized Wedderburn structure theorem The Wedderburn Artin theorem has since become a cornerstone of noncommutative ring theory The purpose of this book is to introduce the subject of the structure theory of associative rings This book is addressed to a reader who wishes to learn this topic from the beginning to research level We have tried to write a self contained book which is intended to be a modern textbook on the structure theory of associative rings and related structures and will be accessible for independent study      American Book Publishing Record ,1998      Exercises in Modules and Rings T.Y. Lam,2009-12-08 The idea of writing this book came roughly at the time of publication of my graduate text Lectures on Modules and Rings Springer GTM Vol 189 1999 Since that time teaching obligations and intermittent intervention of other projects caused prolonged delays in the work on this volume Only a lucky break in my schedule in 2006 enabled me to put the finishing touches on the completion of this long overdue book This book is intended to serve a dual purpose First it is designed as a problem book for Lectures As such it contains the statements and full solutions of the many exercises that appeared in Lectures. Second, this book is also offered as a reference and repository for general information in the theory of modules and rings that may be hard to find in the standard textbooks in the field. As a companion volume to Lectures, this work covers the same mathematical material as its parent work, namely the part of ring theory that makes substantial use of the notion of modules. The two books thus share the same table of contents, with the first half treating projective, injective, and flat modules, homological and uniform dimensions, and the second half dealing with noncommutative localizations and Goldie's theorems, maximal rings of quotients, Frobenius and quasi-Frobenius rings, concluding with Morita's theory of category equivalences and dualities.
