Portraits The Roman Male Portraits Part:

Roman Portraits in Context Jane Fejfer, 2009-03-13 The highest honour a Roman citizen could hope for was a portrait statue in the forum of his city While the emperor and high senatorial officials were routinely awarded statues strong competition existed among local benefactors to obtain this honour which proclaimed and perpetuated the memory of the patron and his family for generations There were many ways to earn a portrait statue but such local figures often had to wait until they had passed away before the public finally fulfilled their expectations It is argued in this book that our understanding and contemplation of a Roman portrait statue is greatly enriched when we consider its wider historical context its original setting the circumstances of its production and style and its base which in many cases bore a text that contributed to the rhetorical power of the image

Depicting the Dead Stine Birk, 2013-02-04 The present monograph takes its place in a now well established tradition of seeing sarcophagi as visual statements of deceased individuals that used allegories to plot lives and personal memories against mythological and other idealised narratives It focuses on Roman sarcophagi often referred to as stadtrömisch which reflects the fact that the field has traditionally been dominated by German scholars The aim of the book is twofold Firstly it is an exploration of how to read Roman sarcophagi which starts from those with portraits but which can contribute more broadly to the study of sarcophagi in general Secondly this book investigates gender values as represented through images and how to locate the individual in standardised iconography
