The Portuguese off the South Arabian coast Robert B. Serjeant, 1963

The African Prester John and the Birth of Ethiopian-European Relations, 1402-1555 Matteo Salvatore, 2016-06-17 From the 14th century onward political and religious motives led Ethiopian travelers to Mediterranean Europe For two centuries their ancient Christian heritage and the myth of a fabled eastern king named Prester John allowed the Ethiopians to engage the continent's secular and religious elites as peers Meanwhile back home the Ethiopian nobility came to welcome European visitors and at times even co-opted them by arranging mixed marriages and bestowing land rights The protagonists of this encounter sought and discovered each other in royal palaces monasteries and markets throughout the Mediterranean basin the Red Sea and the Indian Ocean littoral from Lisbon to Jerusalem and from Venice to Goa Matteo Salvatore's narrative takes the reader on a voyage of reciprocal discovery that climaxed with the Portuguese intervention on the side of the Christian monarchy in the Ethiopian Adali War Thereafter the arrival of the Jesuits at the Horn of Africa turned the mutually beneficial Ethiopian-European encounter into a bitter confrontation over the souls of Ethiopian Christians

Imperial Muslims Scott S. Reese, 2017-11-22 In Imperial Muslims we have a tremendously valuable and highly readable contribution one that has filled a serious gap in our reading of modern Indian Ocean history and that has also added significant depth to our understanding of Muslim religious life under colonial rule It is beautifully written deeply textured and eminently accessible Fahad Ahmad Bishara Die Welt des Islams In Imperial Muslims the author's ingenious use of British archival sources and Arabic contemporary publications make 19th and early 20th century Aden come alive in front of the reader's eyes His assertion that at the turn of the century Britain ruled over forty percent of the global Muslim population is enough to explain why Aden is an important case study in providing a window into the social and spiritual life of a Muslim community within the British Empire
