James Nairne's highly respected and accessible new edition offers all the content, pedagogy and visual appeal that professors and students have come to expect from a successful introductory psychology text and more. Nairne's Second Edition offers a cohesive look at how psychology works in our everyday lives. This practical, motivating text presents all the topics you cover in your introductory course but connects them in a way that adds meaning and consistency to your students' study of the discipline. And how does it do this? By introducing students to the adaptive mind, a theme based on the realization that our thoughts and actions stem from our need to adapt to our surroundings. This unique framework stresses practical applications and helps students understand how we use psychology to deal with everyday challenges. Nairne builds all topics around an adaptive problem solving framework. He emphasizes the way that particular behaviors, thought processes and emotions help people solve problems, from memorizing a telephone number to ducking under cover as a building begins to shake to producing a quick physical response in the face of traffic hazards. This organizational framework also promotes a common theme of understanding across the chapters. This innovative approach may differ from the presentation you have come to expect from others' texts. But beneath the innovation you'll find ample coverage of all the traditional topics around which you build your course. Soundings, 1999. Understanding Human Behavior and the Social Environment Charles Zastrow, Karen Kay Kirst-Ashman, 1997. Using systems theoretical framework, this text incorporates human development and behavior theories and knowledge within the context of family, organizational and community systems and examines the impact of social and economic forces on individuals and social systems. Consistent with the curriculum policy statements of the CSWE, content on social work values and ethics, diversity, social and economic justice and populations at risk is also included. Relating theory and knowledge to practice skills, examples and applications, the material is relevant, interesting and provides students with a sound base on which to build assessment skills. New material covers Hispanic women and community development, religion and spirituality, cultural biases and IQ tests, ethnic and cultural differences in families and schools, sexual harassment cases plaguing high places i.e. Packwood, Clinton and Greene, the Africentric perspective and homosexuality statistics.
